TWO PORTS IN INDIA BOMBED AFTER RAID ON COLOMBO SMASHED

Japanese Planes Do Little Damage in Attacks on Madras Presidency — Twenty-Seven Aircraft Shot Down and Thirty More Damaged in Attempt to Surprise City in Ceylon

NEW DELHI, India, April 6 (AP).—Bombs fell among the people of India proper today when Japanese planes, attacking the Indian coast for the first time, raided two ports in Madras Presidency, and worse to befall was hinted in the disclosure that a Japanese naval force is ranging the Bay of Bengal.

The naval force, which includes at least one aircraft carrier, already has attacked commerce both with its surface ships and its planes, said a communique.

These first direct manifestations of war came to India as its people still were torn with hesitation on their political future.

RAIDING FORCES SMALL

The raiding force which attacked Vizagapatam, a city of more than 40,000 and site of a British naval base, and Cocanada, nearby provincial capital of 40,000, was officially described as small.

Vizagapatam and Colombo, capital of Ceylon and sixth largest port in the British Empire which the Japanese attacked on Sunday, are two of the points from which the Japanese might expect Allied war supplies to move to Burma and China.

Slight damage to the Vizagapatam harbor area, which was attacked twice, was reported, and only a few casualties occurred at Cocanada—possibly because the raiding force had been dealt with so severely when it attempted the surprise blow at Colombo only to be am-

MAY USE SUGAR FOR PRESERVES

Special Provisions Are Announced by Administrator For Household Needs

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP).—Special provisions for use of sugar in home preserving of fruits, forecast when the rationing order was put in effect last January, were announced today by S. R. Noble, sugar administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

In addition to the amount of sugar allowed under rationing regulations, any person may purchase such quantity of sugar as necessary for the household preserving, canning or making into jams and jellies of any fruits, subject to these provisions:

Purchases of sugar for preserving or canning shall be on the basis of one-half pound of sugar for every pound of fruit weight. All home canning or preserving by syrup methods must be done in a light syrup, defined as a syrup made of one part sugar to two parts of water.

FOR JAM OR JELLY

Purchases of sugar for jam or jelly are to be on the basis of three-quarters of a pound of sugar for every pound of fruit weight, and all home-made jams and jellies are to be preserved with three parts of sugar to four of fruit or juice.

The order does not apply to industrial users of sugar.

As sugar "has no preservative value in the curing or preserving of meats," it is provided that no person may hereafter purchase or otherwise acquire any sugar other than that quantity already allowed under the rationing order, for the purpose of curing or preserving meats.

The normal sugar ration is three-quarters of a pound a week per person.

Fifty-Seven Of Sixty Die While in Air

LONDON, April 6 (CP).—The Moscow radio reported tonight that sixty German parachute troops attempted a landing behind Soviet lines, but before they reached the ground fifty-seven of them had been killed by Red army machine-gunners.

This frustrated effort was said to have been made after the Germans had been repelled with severe losses in repeated land assaults on the Russian line.

ENVOY JOINS INDIAN TALKS

Special U.S. Emissary Is Taking Part in Dominion Status Negotiations

NEW DELHI, India, April 6 (AP).—Louis Johnson, special emissary from the United States, sought in a round of conferences today to assist in solution of the complex Indian independence question, rendered even more urgent by the first Japanese air attacks on the mainland.

Friendly assurances of the Washington Government's interest in India's future were believed to have been given by Johnson in talks yesterday and today with Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and Maulana Abul Kalan Azud, leaders of the All-India Congress Party, the major political group of Hindus.

CONFERS WITH CRIPPS

Johnson then conferred with Sir Stafford Cripps, British Cabinet Minister, who brought to India an offer of postwar Dominion status.

While the American position was described as in no sense involving guarantees, Johnson was reported striving to see what could be contributed toward a solution, and his attitude imparted a sense of vigor and urgency to the negotiations.

(In London well-informed sources said a decision one way or the other was expected this week after Sir Stafford explains the British Cabinet's revision of the plan for India's defence.

(To meet Indian objections to this defence remaining in British hands, one suggestion under consideration was said by these sources to be ap-

GOVERNOR STARTS ON WESTERN TOUR

Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice To Arrive Here on Friday From Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP). — The Governor-General and Princess Alice left tonight by train for Victoria, starting a tour of the Western Provinces which an aide said may last several weeks.

The Viceregal party traveled in a private car attached to a regular transcontinental train. They are traveling via Canadian National Railways.

A Government House spokesman said the Earl and Countess of Athlone will travel through to Victoria without stopovers, arriving there some time Friday.

Russian Airmen Make Heavy Bag Of Nazi Planes

Over Four Hundred Destroyed in Eight-Day Period—Sunday's Total of 119 Biggest Day—Unusually Bad Spring Weather Helps Unceasing Red Army Pressure on Eastern Front

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, April 6 (AP).—Russian airmen and ground batteries, scoring one of the biggest bags of the war, destroyed 415 German planes in blazing aerial war during the eight-day period up to and including yesterday, a Soviet communique announced tonight.

This tremendous toll was rolled up, a Moscow communique said, at a cost of only eighty-four Soviet planes. On Saturday and Sunday alone, it added, 221 Nazi craft were destroyed.

The biggest day's total was reported Sunday, when 118 Nazi craft were listed as destroyed in the air and on the ground after Saturday's count reached 102.

NO ESSENTIAL CHANGES

The communique said briefly that "no essential changes took place at the front."

A supplement to the Moscow communique said that in the last two days of fighting on the Leningrad front 2,300 German officers and men were killed.

BATTERING AT SUPPLY LINES

American Submarines Sink More Enemy Ships in Western Pacific

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP).—American submarines battering steadily at Japan's long supply lines in the Western Pacific have sunk three more enemy merchant ships, two of them heavily laden tankers, the Navy reported today.

Destruction of these vessels raised to a total of fifty-one the Japanese ships blasted by far-roving United States undersea raiders—a total made up of thirty sinkings, ten probable sinkings and the damaging of eleven other ships. The over-all score of Japanese vessels sunk and damaged both by army and navy forces mounted to 209 in the four months of war ending today.

The two tankers were sunk by a submarine on extended patrol in the vicinity of the Caroline Islands, Japanese mandates lying east of the Philippines. One of the tankers fired on the submarine but, the Navy said, failed to damage it.

The cargo of the tankers, whether oil or gasoline, was not given, but

RAN GAUNTLET AND ARE SAFE

Several Norwegian Ships Succeed in Making Dash From Swedish Port

A BRITISH PORT, April 6 (CP).—A number of the eleven Norwegian ships which last week made a daring dash toward Britain from Goteburg, Sweden, have reached this port safely after being attacked repeatedly by German airplanes, naval surface craft and submarines.

A combination of heavy fog, skillful seamanship and plain luck enabled the ships to run the German blockade. But some of them were sunk by the Germans.

(Copenhagen German-controlled dispatches said that from two to four of the ships were sunk, and that two turned back to Goteburg.)

A young Norwegian sailor who came through the gauntlet said "Those torpedoes seemed to fill the sea."

FORMALLY CHARTERED

The ships had been in the Swedish harbor opposite the northern tip of Denmark since the German invasion of Norway, and were chartered formally to Britain by the Norwegian Government.

The problem was to get them through an alert German blockade.

The attempt was made last Tuesday.

"We knew we were taking tremendous risks, but we did not expect things to happen as quickly as they did," the young Norwegian said.

"The Germans had been tipped off. They were waiting just off the Swedish Coast in the heavily-mined Skagerrak, and opened up on us immediately.

"Our ships kept on at full speed. Above us we could still hear the roar of German bombers, and every now and then the thud of exploding bombs.

"Torpedoes seemed to fill the sea, but all missed us. We were chased for hours and attacked with every form of weapon—bombs, shells, torpedoes.

"But that fog was our salvation."

MAKE GAINS ON BATAAN

Japanese Assault Troops Force American-Filipino Troops to Fall Back

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP).—The Japanese hurled waves of assault troops at Lieut.-Gen. Jonathan Wainwright's American-Filipino forces today, and gained ground in the third day of fierce fighting on the Bataan Peninsula.

A late day communique from the War Department said the attacks were supported by artillery fire and dive bombers, and, for the second time in three days, reported "the enemy made some gains," although paying heavily in casualties. Anti-aircraft gunners shot down one of the dive bombers, the second they have bagged in two days.

LANDINGS REPULSED

On the east coast of the Peninsula, where the Japanese have been repulsed twice in the last seventy-two hours in attempts to land troops for a flank attack, enemy artillery harassed the defences, firing from barges in Manila Bay. Most of the shells fell short of their targets, the communique said.

The action reported today was the seventh drive against the Bataan defences in two weeks. Since Saturday the hammering at the right centre of Wainwright's line has been almost continuous.

The repeated Japanese drives were taken by observers in Washington as meaning that Lieut.-Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, the Japanese commander, was determined to force his way through regardless of the cost in men and equipment.

Wainwright's line now extends across Bataan from a point above Abucay on the Manila Bay shore, southwestward to the China Sea, with about half the peninsula in the possession of the defenders.

Corregidor itself was free of aerial bombardment for the second successive day, but the smaller forts, Frank and Drum, near the Davite shore of Manila Bay, were subjected to light attack by enemy dive bombers, which inflicted neither casualties nor damage.

LAKE FREIGHTERS ARE IN TROUBLE

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 6 (AP).—Three lake freighters were aground and between forty and fifty others were caught in soft ice tonight in Whitefish Bay, north of the locks here.

Coast Guard officers said the three ships were grounded on Parisienne Island in the bay, but that there was no immediate danger. The vessels were identified as the John Dunn, Jr., of the Great Lakes Steamship Company, and the W. A. McGonagle and the William B. Schiller, of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company.

Six tugs were reported at work freeing the ice-bound ships, but officers said the situation was not serious enough to warrant calling an ice-breaker. They said the blockade was caused by a shift in the ice field and the breaking loose of shore ice.

Several upbound freighters were held outside the ice field under coast guard orders awaiting break-up of the jam.

FIVE KILLED IN CRASH

TUCSON, Ariz., April 6 (AP).—Five officers and men were killed and two others were injured late today, when a four-motor army bomber crashed near Vail, about twenty miles east of here, while on a routine flight.

Air Raids by Allies In New Britain Score Hits on Large Ships

Described as Heaviest Yet Made by Australian and American Flyers Striking at Japanese—Enemy Aircraft Are Damaged on Ground

MELBOURNE, April 7 (Tuesday) (CP).—Several Japanese bombers were damaged yesterday in attacking Port Moresby, New Guinea, and two of the defending Australian fighter planes were lost, a communique said today.

One of the Allied pilots was saved, however, and the raid on Port Moresby was declared a failure.

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 6 (AP).—Raids described as "among the heaviest yet made by the Allies" were reported carried out today by flying Australians and Americans striking at Rabaul and Gasmata in New Britain, where Japan is said to be reinforcing her badly wrecked and overmatched air forces.

The Sydney Herald, which reported the raids, said direct hits were scored on large Japanese ships in Rabaul Harbor on the Northeast New Britain coast, where the Japanese obtained their first foothold on Australia's outer island rim.

Both at Rabaul and at Gasmata, on the south coast of New Britain, aircraft were said to have been damaged on the airdromes.

Earlier it had been reported that Japan was strengthening her air forces in that area to bolster her faltering Australian offensive, and it was assumed that the Allies were determined to destroy the new planes before they could get in action.

It remained for official reports, however, to tell whether the raid had been as successful as that of March 21 when the Japanese suf-

THOUSAND TONS OF BOMBS DROPPED ON NAZI PLANTS

Three Hundred British Bombers Take Part in Mighty Assault—Half of Explosives Unloaded on Factories at Cologne—Motor Works Near Paris Are Also Attacked

Only Five R.A.F. Planes Lost in Successful Raid

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), April 7 (Tuesday) (AP). — British bombers raided Germany last night for the second successive night, it was announced officially today.

Details of the attacks were not given immediately.

LONDON, April 6 (CP).—One of the mightiest British air fleets ever to cross the English Channel—a force of 300 bombers, many of them manned by Canadians—blasted 1,000 tons of explosive and countless fire bombs upon German war plants in an overnight raid extending from the French coast inland to the Parisian industrial suburbs and on the east to the heart of the Rhineland.

In this great attack, from which young Canadian airmen returned to describe how Nazi anti-aircraft fire failed to keep them from their targets, only five Royal Air Force craft were lost. The Air Ministry called it one of the most successful operations in recent months.

Hard hit were the docks at Le Havre and the Gnome-Rhone works at Gennevilliers near Paris, in which French workmen under the lash of the Nazi conqueror are making airplane engine parts for use against Britain and Russia, but the greatest power of the raid was expended on Cologne, metropolis of

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, April 6 (By cable).—Wiping out two-thirds of a Japanese air raiding force at Colombo, where the enemy tried to repeat his treacherous victory at Pearl Harbor, has given the greatest satisfaction in Ceylon. Probably fifty out of seventy-five machines failed to return to their aircraft carrier.

Damage in Colombo was negligible apart from patients killed in a hospital. British fighters smashed Japanese aircraft much as in the Battle of Britain itself. This is the biggest aerial victory over the Japanese since the Pacific War began.

Superiority of the Royal Australian Air Force in fighting qualities has also been shown at Darwin and Kupang, in Dutch Timor, where twenty-seven enemy machines were destroyed or damaged in one day for loss of two on the British side. The raids on Darwin and Port Moresby continue, says The Times' Melbourne correspondent, but the scale of attack is much reduced and damage is unimportant. Many of the Japanese pilots crashed into the sea during the fighting.

From various accounts, received by the Allies, it would appear that the Japanese have lost 132 ships and merchantmen.

British troops have completed their withdrawal to new positions on the Irrawaddy front, though dive-bombed and machine-gunned from the air during the operation. Enemy forces on the west bank of the Irrawaddy River have been heavily shelled. Japanese air activity there continues to be intense. Mandalay has been heavily bombed and the hospital caught fire. Patients, however, were removed.

The thaw continues to cause slowing up of large-scale operations on the Russian front, says The Times' Stockholm correspondent, but hard fighting has not ceased at Staraya Russa and in the Vyasma region. Here and there the Germans are attempting counter-attacks, apparently in the hope of finding weak spots in the Soviet front.

Berlin's unusual communicativeness about the High Command's Spring plans leads some observers to think it may be a cloak to disguise an offensive on another front altogether.

However, the large massing of men in Russia rather indicates that for once the Germans may be telling the truth on the assumption that no one will believe them when they do so. The Nazis are giving out fantastic figures of Russian losses, presumably to combat the depressing conviction in Germany that her own losses far exceed official figures.

Consultations at Delhi have now reached the crucial stage and the issues under examination in London and Delhi may determine the final outcome of Sir Stafford Cripps' mission to endeavor to settle India's political future.

Apparently Congress members are concentrating on the question of control of defence to Indian hands under a reconstructed Indianized central government. The press emphasizes that the initiative now rests with Sir Stafford and the War Cabinet. Congress leaders have not only objected to defence plans, but also, apparently, wish still to raise other constitutional issues.

THREE WIN DECORATIONS

Victoria-Born Flyer Awarded Bar to Distinguished Flying Cross

LONDON, April 7 (Tuesday), (CP).—Three Canadians whose gallantry won recognition in the desert air war of the Middle East are listed in tonight's Air Ministry announcement of awards.

Acting Flt. Lt. John Ronald Urwin-Mann, born in Victoria, B.C., receives a bar to his Distinguished Flying Cross; Acting Flt. Lt. Robert Wilfred Alexander, of Norwich, Ont., and Acting Flt. Lt. Clifton Watt Harper, of Brighton, Ont., received the D.F.C.

Urwin-Mann was one of the R.A.F.'s top pilots in the spectacular battles over Britain in the Fall of 1940 when the German air force tried unsuccessfully to defeat British air power. He was awarded the D.F.C. on November 19, 1940, after his record showed he had shot down eight enemy planes.

FRONT NOT STATED

A member of Squadron 238, Urwin-Mann's second citation for a decoration does not establish whether he won it in raids on the Continent or over territory in the Middle East. The citation says:

HIGH OFFICER IS LOST OVERBOARD

Rear Admiral J. W. Wilcox, U.S. Navy, Perishes in Atlantic in Heavy Weather

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP).—Rear Admiral J. W. Wilcox, Jr., has been lost overboard "at sea in heavy weather during normal cruising," the navy announced today.

No additional details were disclosed by the department.

Admiral Wilcox has been on sea duty since December, 1941. His official residence is listed as Atlanta, Ga.

He was born in Milledgeville, Ga., in 1882, and was appointed to the Naval Academy from the Eighth Georgia District in 1901.

First Canadian Army Headquarters Opened In Southern England

General Crerar Named Commander of First Corps—Head of Second Corps, Now Being Organized in Canada, Not Yet Announced

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, April 6 (CP).—Headquarters of the First Canadian Army were opened in Southern England today with the major aim of preparing blueprints for an attack on the enemy-held continent of Europe.

Co-operating with British organizations established for the same purpose, the new Canadian headquarters will help work out strategy for an offensive in which Canadian forces based in the United Kingdom are certain to take a practical part.

It was generally considered that with the Canadian Army now fully formed under the command of Lieutenant-General A. G. L. McNaughton there is assurance greater than ever that the weight of opinion of the Canadian leader will be of importance in big decisions on offensive operations and plans for future campaigns.

In an interview General McNaughton emphasized that the new headquarters were headquarters for attack. He repeated his belief that the war can be won only by smashing the Germans on the Continent and made it clear the First Canadian Army was being trained to strike offensively.

The new Canadian headquarters

EVENTS MOVING TO NEW CRISIS

Petain Government Is Forced To Give Way to Axis Demands

LONDON, April 6 (CP).—Press reports in London indicate that events in France are moving to a new crisis and Washington reports speak of new German pressure on the Petain Government, the British Broadcasting Corporation said today.

The B.B.C. said these reports suggested the Germans now are using a current wheat shortage in France as a means of obtaining new concessions from Vichy.

Evidence that the Petain Government already has been compelled to give way to some of the Axis demands has been published by Free French headquarters in London, the broadcast continued.

FOR GERMAN USE

This showed that torpedoes have been manufactured for German use in the naval base at Toulon in unoccupied France and that torpedoes also are being manufactured for Italian use.

In many parts of unoccupied France workers in aircraft factories are unknowingly producing planes for the German Air Force, the B.B.C. said. In theory production in the unoccupied zone is reserved for the Vichy armed forces but the Germans maintain the right to take aircraft from the unoccupied zone if production figures in occupied France fall below schedule.

The broadcast said this means that of the 6,000 planes scheduled to be produced in 1942, 5,000 will go to Germany and only 1,000 will be for Vichy's forces.

UNFOLD EPIC OF GREAT ENDURANCE

MELBOURNE, April 6 (CP).—Another epic of heroism and endurance was unfolded today following the arrival in Australia of seven United States Navy airmen who, within seventy-three hectic hours:

Escaped from their flying boat after it was shot down in flames off Northern Australia by nine Japanese fighters with the loss of one of their comrades;

Drifted for hours in a rubber dinghy until they were rescued by an American merchantman, which in turn was sunk by Japanese dive-bombers as the vessel raced to the aid of another ship set afire by enemy planes;

Survived this sinking and rowed for many hours in a lifeboat manned by panic-stricken natives before sighting an island;

Walked endless miles under a scorching sun to a settlement where they were picked up by a second rescue ship which was bombed by a Japanese flying boat but finally reached the safety of an Australian port.

Thousand Japanese Families to Go to Sugar-Beet Centres

Austin C. Taylor Announces Plan to Move Aliens to Alberta and Manitoba—Another 3,000 Men to Be Sent to Ontario Points

VANCOUVER, April 6 (CP).—Austin C. Taylor, chairman of the British Columbia Security Commission, announced tonight that W. Andrews, of Lethbridge, and C. E. Graham, of Winnipeg, have been appointed to represent the commission in Alberta and Manitoba in connection with the establishment of 1,000 Japanese families in those provinces.

Mr. Taylor said that Mr. Andrews' responsibilities in Alberta "cover mainly the sugar-beet interests and any other matters pertaining to the interests of Alberta and this commission (British Columbia Security Commission)."

Mr. Graham will have the same responsibilities with respect to Manitoba.

A commission spokesman said that the two men would be in complete charge of Japanese upon their arrival in Alberta and Manitoba to work in the sugar-beet growing areas.

PROVIDES FOR 5,000

Removal of 1,000 Japanese families to lands in the sugar-beet districts of Southern Alberta and Southern Manitoba were announced earlier by Mr. Taylor. He estimated the average family would be of five persons, making a total of 5,000 to be settled in these areas. The Japanese will be provided with houses, lands and certain "staple furniture."

He did not say when this movement would begin.

At the same time the commission chairman announced that towns in the Interior of British Columbia will accommodate 7,500 women, children and aged dependents of the Japanese, and that some 3,000 Canadian-born and naturalized Japanese will be sent to road camps, pulp mills and lumber centres in Ontario. A number of these already have left for Ontario.

Another 5,000 Japanese, mainly Japanese nationals, will go to British Columbia road camps.

BRANDS RUMORS FALSE

In a statement issued to Japanese here, Mr. Taylor branded as false rumors that Japanese-Canadians would be forced to join the army and that "they would be used to man tankers operating on the Great Lakes." Mr. Taylor said "these are quoted as an example of the baseless rumors being bandied about."

Mr. Taylor said the commission had had great difficulty in finding places where Japanese could be sent to and where they could make a living.

He said the Government would try to find jobs in private industry for large groups, particularly in Ontario pulp mills and logging camps.

"The commission is glad to be able to send large groups to the beet-growing areas in Suthern Alberta and Manitoba for the reason that it means the family unit will not have to be broken up, which is something the commission regrets very much in the case of those who have to go to work camps," Mr. Taylor said.

"The reason for work is from May 15 to November 6," Mr. Taylor said, "and there is an interval of about six weeks when work can be secured at harvesting.

"The prevailing contracts and wages will be paid to all families as are paid to other people who are engaged in this class of work. The commission considers that a family engaged in this work can be self-supporting and can rest assured of a reasonable living. Housing accommodation is provided free, as well as an acre or two of land which the family may cultivate for its own use."

Police protection will be provided in towns where women, children and old men are established.

"No one need fear molestation by any person, and the necessities of life will be provided, as well as hospital accommodation for all who need it."

MAJOR CLIFF WALLACE MADE PRESS OFFICER FOR CANADIAN ARMY

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, April 6 (CP).—Capt. Cliff Wallace, of Toronto, member of a Toronto Scottish machine-gun regiment, has been appointed public relations officer at new Canadian Army headquarters with acting rank of major, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton told The Canadian Press today.

Former managing editor of The Edmonton Journal and of The Toronto Globe and Mail, Wallace came overseas with a draft of reinforcements in the Summer of 1940 and served in the field with his regiment and then went to corps headquarters as G.S.O. operations, thence to the adjutant-general's department at Canadian Military Headquarters.

FIRST CANADIAN ARMY IS FORMED

already have started to take shape. Major-General G. R. Turner and Major-General C. S. L. Hertsberg, both just promoted from the rank of brigadier, already have moved in.

The complete staff, it was said, will emerge gradually, but that of the [illegible] being formed in Canada—will be organized soon.

OTTAWA ANNOUNCEMENT

OTTAWA, April 6 (AP).—The formation in the United Kingdom of headquarters for the First Canadian Army, under Lieutenant-General A. G. L. McNaughton, was announced today by National Defence Headquarters.

The formation of the headquarters is effective from today.

Acting Lieutenant-General H. D. G. Crerar, acting corps commander during General McNaughton's recent trip to Canada, was named commander of one of the new army's two corps. Commander of the other corps has not been named.

Eight other promotions and appointments were made public in the departmental statement on formation of headquarters for the first army in Canada's history.

BRIGADIERS PROMOTED

Three brigadiers were promoted to rank of major-general—Brigadier G. R. Turner and Brigadier C. S. L. Hertsberg, appointed to the Army Staff, and Brigadier J. H. Roberts, who becomes a divisional commander.

Four colonels were promoted to brigadier—Colonel J. E. Genet, appointed to the Army Staff; Colonel J. L. Melville and Lieutenant-Colonel A. E. Walford, appointed to Corps Headquarters, and Lieutenant-Colonel E. C. Plow, named to command the artillery of a Canadian division.

Brigadier H. O. N. Brownfield was appointed to Corps Headquarters from a Canadian division.

The announcement said:

"The establishment of the First Canadian Army overseas will create a thoroughly-modern, self-contained and hard-hitting fighting force capable of operating in any theatre of war.

"It is particularly strong in armored fighting power.

"It will prove a worthy successor to the traditions of the Canadian Corps in the last Great War."

TO BE SENT OVERSEAS

Mr. King's statement disclosed the new army set-up would mean a new armored division—to be created by conversion of the existing Fourth Infantry Division—and a new army tank brigade, both to be sent overseas this year.

Transformation of the Fourth Division into an armored division now is proceeding at an Eastern Canadian camp and only last week army officials intimated they are pleased with the progress being made.

The Canadian Corps of three infantry divisions, an armored division and an army tank brigade thus will become an army of two corps, containing three infantry divisions, two army tank brigades and two armored divisions.

The present commander of the overseas armored division, Major-General E. W. Sansom, has been considered the probable choice for command of the new armored corps when it is set up.

General Turner, now on the First Army Staff, was born at Four Falls, N.B., and is fifty-two. He has been district engineering officer at M.D. 10 (Winnipeg), assistant director of engineer services at Defence Headquarters, General Staff officer, Grade 1, branch of the General Staff, and General Staff officer, M.D. 11 (Victoria).

HITS ARE SCORED ON LARGE SHIPS

fered one of the most devastating blows of the Southwest Pacific with twenty-three ships sunk, burned, beached and damaged and the equivalent of two squadrons of planes knocked out. The raid was in line with Army Minister Francis M. Forde's advice today to the defenders not to grow overconfident because of their recent sharp successes.

WARNING EMPHASIZED

This warning was emphasized by reports received in Sydney that the Japanese had taken up positions in four places in Bougainville and nearby islands at the northern end of the Solomon Islands.

These places were given as Kieta, Kessa, Buka and Faisi. Some small forces already had been reported on Bougainville, southwest of New Guinea and northwest of Australia, and the new landings were said to have been accomplished by small forces from destroyers.

The Japanese could use the positions to patrol the seaway approaches to Australia from North America, and possibly to project attacks upon the Free French islands of New Caledonia, the New Hebrides or the Fiji Islands in an encircling movement east of the Australian continent.

A BITTER TASTE

Army Minister Francis Forde spoke encouragingly after a visit to one of the United States troop camps of the force built up by joint Australian, American and British efforts which he said already had given the Japanese a bitter taste of the task they had ahead of them if they attempt to invade this continent.

But he warned: "I am encouraging nobody to believe the tide has turned. The tide always returns. We must be vigilant and ready. There is a long way to go yet. The tide in which I am most interested is the flood tide, whereon the full strength of the Allies, with Australia among them, will flow toward Japan for the final battle."

Although Australia's position was distinctly easier than two months ago, he said the country "must expect and prepare for attack."

He ordered emergency regulations extended to Thursday Island and all the islands in Torres Strait within 100 miles of the mainland. Military authorities thus were enabled to act promptly in event the Japanese strike from the Northeast.

SINGLE CASUALTY

Hostile action was limited to a Japanese raid, the twenty-third, on Port Moresby, northern defence centre in Southern New Guinea. Of seven Japanese bombers with fighter escort which attacked just after noon, the defenders shot down one zero fighter and damaged a second one and a bomber. Only one casualty, a wounded sergeant, and slight damage to a gasoline dump were reported.

Allied headquarters expected that word from a Sunday attack by Australian and American flyers on the Japanese base to the northwest, at Kupang, Netherlands Timor, would show further damage inflicted upon the Japanese, already reported to have suffered twenty planes destroyed and nineteen damaged in a series of smashing week-end successes for the United Nations.

the industrial Rhineland and the hub of its railway transport.

SUPER-BOMBS DROPPED

More than 150 planes beat at Cologne, in the 105th assault upon that city. Returning pilots told of great flames left in Cologne and of super-bombs falling upon the targets in fountains of fire.

"It was," said Flt. Sgt. Wenlfield, of Montreal, "the best of the nine trips I have made."

The Germans themselves in official broadcasts acknowledged during the day that there had been material damage in Western Germany.

The extraordinarily small number of losses relative to the weight of the attack—less than 2 per cent—was stressed by the Air Ministry spokesman with the restrained remark: "Very satisfactory."

FIFTH PARIS ATTACK

The Paris area attack was the fifth since March 3.

Other offensive action of a different nature was reported during the day but not confirmed.

For the second time within a week, the Canadian squadron led by Wing Cmdr. Johnny Fauquier, of Ottawa, took a leading part in over-the-Channel action. Last week Fauquier and his mates bombed the Matford truck works at Poissy in suburban Paris. This time Fauquier and most of the other Canadians engaged had Cologne as their objective.

"They shook us up a bit," said P.O. R. P. Locke, of Vernon, B.C., describing how he piloted his bomber over the objective on Cologne. He reported a hole in the bomb-flap doors of his plane as proof that German ack-ack was effective.

Locke had another Vernon flyer, Flt.-Sgt. J. W. Sanderson, as a member of his crew. Also in the crew was Flt.-Sgt. N. Leftley, of Ottawa.

PRAISES REAR-GUNNER

Rear-gunners are supposed to be the forgotten men of the crew, but P.O. W. A. McKay, of Vancouver, paid high praise to the rear-gunner of his bomber—Sgt. J. P. Morrison, of Winnipeg.

"A Jerry night fighter followed us right into the target, but Morrison's directions were so good we were able to keep beyond range," said McKay.

Morrison explained that by the time his plane reached the edge of the target "Jerry had faded," apparently not wishing to meet the anti-aircraft fire.

A German raider flew over the south coast of England at dusk tonight and dropped bombs, but the Air Ministry reported that only slight damage was caused and no one was injured.

ENVOY JOINS INDIAN TALKS

pointment of General Sir Archibald Wavell as viceroy with Nehru or the moderate Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru as defence minister. General Wavell would retain his position as commander in chief for India.

(Thus a temporary solution would be founded upon the desperate nature of the military situation rather than on the complexities of Indian politics, with Britain underlining a promise of postwar government of, by and for Indians, these London quarters asserted.)

TO MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT

The Congress Working Committee adopted a memorandum to be given to the British emissary, inviting an "unequivocal" declaration on India's future status, and Azad said the committee's views on British proposals might be made public on Tuesday night.

Sir Stafford scheduled a press conference for Wednesday morning, and this was taken by observers as an optimistic sign.

Meanwhile the Moslem League adopted a resolution at Allahabad empowering its president, Mohammed Ali Jinnah, to "take forthwith all necessary and effective steps for protection of the life, honor and property of Moslems." It was not explained what these steps might be. The league, second largest of Indian political organs, claims leadership of India's 77,000,000 Moslems.

The Moslems fear domination by the Hindu majority. The Hindus, on the other hand, are cold to the British proposal for creation of separate autonomous states for these provinces which do not generally agree on one united dominion.

MUST BE PLACATED

Even if the Congress and the Moslems should get together, the president of the Hindu extremist Mahasabha organization warned Britain that his group must be placated. The Mahasabha contends Hindus will be alienated by what it calls "the vivisection of India clause" permitting more than one dominion.

Meanwhile, the Indian press, expressing pleasure over Ceylon's rough treatment of Japanese air raiders, used the raid as a warning to politicians to conclude the current negotiations quickly so India's 390,000,000 people could be mobilized.

The Madras fortress areas are to be blacked out starting next Sunday. Madras Province is in Southern India near Ceylon, with the city of Madras only 500 miles from the raided city of Colombo.

RUSSIAN AIRMEN MAKE HEAVY BAG

A Russian Guards unit in the Kalinin sector recaptured seven more inhabited localities from the Germans, taking much equipment, it added.

Worse-than-usual weather of a sodden Russian Spring and the Red Army's unceasing pressure on the key German forward bases was regarded as jeopardizing German hopes for an early Spring drive to the east.

UNPRECEDENTED WEATHER

An unprecedented Easter snow on some parts of the battlefront emphasized the lateness of the season this year and underlined the prospect of weeks of slow thawing that will turn roads into strips of mud and fields into quagmires.

Although the Germans apparently have started feeling out the front for weak spots, Russian dispatches reported the Red Army still pushing doggedly to the west in their offensive which has cost the Germans important forward positions and sapped the Nazi striking power.

WEAKENED RESERVE

These reports mentioned particularly the weakening of the German reserve strength on the southern front, where Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's divisions have been said to have mauled troops the Nazis had expected to keep under wraps until time for their offensive.

The Germans also were believed to have been forced to replot their campaign on the front west of Moscow, where the Russians claimed to have killed 40,000 Nazis from March 23 to April 3, retaking 161 communities and endangering the key German positions at Vyazma and Orshansk.

Dispatches reaching London reported the Red Army shelling Bryansk, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, on one flank of the central front, and pushing forward on the other with cavalry raids northwest of the capital.

HORSES WILL HELP

By EDDIE GILMORE

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, April 6 (AP).—The next six or eight weeks are expected to see the Russian horse really reach its fighting gait as the battlefront becomes one vast quagmire.

A good example of what machines will be up against was given on a ride through the country today when our automobile got stuck in the mud, but hundreds of horse-drawn vehicles moved on uninterrupted.

A large tractor pulling a piece of machinery bogged down. In desperation the drivers finally abandoned their tractor for six horses.

A Russian sled turned out by hand by two men in two hours will play an important part in the war during the thaw.

It's of such simple design that its primitive. This contraption consists of two stout wooden runners atop which is a wooden framework. It is pulled by a single horse.

The sled is called a "rozvalni" and its construction has been unchanged for centuries. Drivers ride—even sleep—on them, hence the name which comes from the verb razvalista, meaning relaxing.

During the coming operations the rozvalni is going to be as important as the highest perfected weapon, tank or plane.

Here's a prediction—look for increasing cavalry operations as the Russians continue to carry the attack to the invader.

Hard-riding Cossacks already have proved their worth in this war, but military authorities say what they have accomplished in the Winter is nothing to what they can do in the Spring.

Pranksters Work At Willows Arena

A number of patrons of the Nanaimo Clippers-All-Star Services hockey game at the Willows Arena last night came out from seeing the match and found that the air had been let out of the tires on their automobiles. It is presumed that a number of boys played this prank on the motorists during the progress of the game.

TWO PORTS IN INDIA BOMBED

bushed by a waiting R.A.F. which shot down twenty-seven of the seventy-five raiding planes and damaged thirty more.

ON EASTERN INDIAN COAST

Vizagapatam and Cocanada, almost halfway up the Eastern Indian coast between Madras and Calcutta, are about 800 miles from the Andaman Islands, where Japan obtained her first foothold in the Bay of Bengal.

(A hint came from London naval quarters that the Japanese naval force included two aircraft carriers and that British warships already might be searching for the Japanese ships.)

British sources said Japanese warships and planes had attacked merchant ships several times in recent days.

War also was coming closer to India by land. In Burma, Japanese patrols had pushed forward to Nyaungbinzeik, fifteen miles north of Prome, on the Irrawaddy branch of the Japanese drive.

The Japanese were massing forces west of the Irrawaddy in a possible flanking move to threaten the British connections with the coast. The invader had the advantage of continued air superiority.

The Chinese, who yielded Toungoo on the eastern end of the Burma line, said the Japanese now were attacking lightly with about one battalion, since the foe had lost 3,700 dead in the twelve-day battle for the town.

RAID ON COLOMBO

In the Colombo raid, twenty-five of the Japanese pilots were shot down by British fighter planes which roared into action at the first blast of the sirens, it was announced. The other two were downed by anti-aircraft gunners during low-flying machine-gun attacks.

In a broadcast on Sunday night, Vice-Admiral Sir Geoffrey Layton, commander-in-chief of armed forces on Ceylon, said about seventy-five Japanese aircraft bombed the harbor area, Ratmalana Railway and the airdrome.

He confirmed earlier suggestions the planes operated from an aircraft carrier, adding that it was doubtful whether the damaged craft could have got back to their ship. He said half of the civilian dead were patients at a medical establishment.

The Ceylon commander called the losses inflicted on the Japanese by the R.A.F. "a great piece of work," and extended congratulations on the flyers' success. He also praised the people's behavior which, he said, "set an example for courage and calmness second to none, rivaling that of the people of Great Britain.

WELL PREPARED

"It was not a matter of luck that we got off so lightly," he said, "but entirely due to the manner in which we prepared ourselves."

The Japanese opened their attack at 8 a.m. with dive-bombing and machine-gun raids aimed principally at Colombo's harbor district.

For more than a month British authorities have been preparing actively for such an attack. Fire lanes had been cut through Colombo to prevent the spread of flames from incendiary bombs, and many blocks of flimsy dwellings had been demolished.

Several new airdromes had been laid out on the island, 270 miles long and 140 miles wide. The docks had also been reinforced.

A complete civilian air raid defence organization had been formed and shelters for the population constructed.

During this period, new troop reinforcements arrived on the island.

A wise fellow stepping up to the bus as it stopped the other morning said to the driver:

"Well, Noah, you've got here. Is the Ark full?"

The motorman answered back: "Nope, we need one more monkey. Come on in."

Instead I eat a big, delicious bowlful of mildly laxative Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning, every day in the year.

He keeps 'em flying—lives depend on his care. He makes sure of enough "bulk" in his diet to keep food wastes moving promptly, starts every day with delicious, gently laxative Kellogg's Bran Flakes.

Take no chances on "slow-downs"

If your work is exacting, deprives you of regular exercise—don't risk the slow-down that makes you headachy and depressed. Follow these two rules of health: 1. To get well, see your doctor; 2. To keep well, watch your habits. Make sure elimination is complete. But steer clear of harsh cathartics. # Four Months of War In Pacific Ends With Hope of Turn in Tide

Recent Developments May Be Sign That Series of Reverses Now Nearly Over—Position of Australia Is Greatly Improved

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP).—The Pacific war turns the four-month mark tomorrow with the United Nations apparently forging ahead in a savage struggle of attrition to compensate partly for previous losses of territory to the Japanese.

A mounting score of Japanese ships and planes destroyed or crippled tops developments buoying hopes of a turning tide. Others include:

The arrival in Australia of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and "considerable numbers" of American ground and air forces, to reinforce the fighting Australians, halt the enemy's southward drive, and make ready for a future offensive.

British success in smashing Japan's "sudden death" air onslaught on the Colombo, Ceylon, base in the Indian Ocean. At least fifty-seven of possible seventy-five attacking planes were downed or damaged in this Easter attack.

Raids of submarines in the Java Sea and the Indian Ocean which sank or damaged two enemy light cruisers and a number of other vessels.

APPROACHES TO AUSTRALIA

Evidence that the Royal Australian Air Force with American help may have won aerial mastery over the northern approaches to Australia, where this last week-end they destroyed a score or more of enemy planes at a cost of three of their own.

Four months after the Pearl Harbor attack, however, the Japanese were hammering with renewed fury at the besieged defenders of the Philippines, and continued to push forward in Burma on the eastern border of India.

Military movements arouse suspicion, too, that they may soon clash with Russia in Siberia, synchronizing their attack with a Nazi offensive in the West.

The fourth month of the Pacific war brought a succession of bad news for the United Nations which was only partly offset by successes.

Java, citadel of the Netherlands Indies, fell at the start of the month, major resistance apparently ceasing on March 8.

In the Battle of the Java Sea February 27-28, it was disclosed, the United Nations lost five cruisers, seven destroyers and a sloop in a heroic attempt against overwhelming odds to head off the enemy invasion.

Other losses also were reported belatedly—sinking of the destroyer Peary February 19, and of the aircraft tender Langley February 27, and the oil tanker Pecos on March 1, all near Java. Possibly 700 men lost their lives in these sinkings.

But heavy blows were struck at the enemy. Notable were the raids by two strong naval squadrons on Marcus Island, 1,000 miles from Tokio on March 4, and on Wake Island February 24. Enemy shore bases were blasted.

Planes and surface vessels co-operated in a dramatic joint raid, March 11, on Salamaua and Lae in New Guinea which cost the foe seven sunken or crippled ships and at least five planes.

WHO all his life has been of the firm belief that happiness lies in work, has no cause to alter his opinion today as he contentedly observes his ninety-second birthday. "Resting all the time is no way to be happy," says Mr. Wilde, who came to Victoria in 1927. He was born within sound of the famous Bow Bells, which ring out from the tower of the Church of St. Mary-le-Bow, in the Strand, London. He lives with his son, Fred, at "Copper Beeches," Colwood, but is at present visiting his daughters, Mrs. Arthur Brook and Mrs. Walter Scott, Spring Street. Another son, John, is a mink farmer at Powell River.

BATTERING AT SUPPLY LINES

It was considered possible that they were transporting fuel for enemy fleet units. Turk Island in the Caroline group is a great Japanese naval base.

The third ship reported sunk was a freighter blasted by a submarine on patrol in constant operation there, thousands of miles from their bases.

That operations over the whole of the enemy-dominated Western Pacific are constantly increasing was indicated by the fact that in recent weeks the navy has made more and more frequent reports of American undersea attacks. Only last Saturday it was announced that two light cruisers had been torpedoed south of Java and that five non-combatant enemy vessels had been damaged by submarine attacks in Dutch East Indies waters.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT IN CAR COLLISION

Private M. Yelenich, R.C.C.S., received cuts on his head and bruises in a traffic accident last night on Gorge Road and was conveyed in the Saanich ambulance to the Military Hospital at Work Point.

Russell W. Anderson, Ellery Street, Esquimalt, was driving his car along Gorge Road at 6:20 o'clock and as he turned to proceed along Tillicum Road his machine was in collison with a motorcycle driven by Yelenich. The driver of the car was uninjured.

VANCOUVER, April 6 (CP).—Frederick W. Adams, sixty-seven-year-old retired boilermaker, wanted to lend his skill to Canada's war effort, so he reported for work at a shipyard last night after two years of idleness.

He punched the time clock and was being welcomed back by fellow-boilermakers when he suddenly collapsed. He was pronounced dead of a heart attack on arrival at hospital.

"This officer led a formation of four aircraft in combat against a superior force of Messerschmitt 109's. Although he was wounded in the back, and later his aircraft was badly damaged, he flew it safely back to the base some sixty miles away. The next day, this officer was again leading his flight.

"He has been engaged in operational flying both in England and the Middle East and has led his flight squadron on wing on some forty sorties, often in adverse weather conditions."

Alexander, twenty-two-year-old member of the R.C.A.F., carried out at least fifty-one sorties as an observer against objectives in Libya, Syria, Greece and other Mediterranean areas.

"Over a long period he has been carrying out the duties of squadron navigation officer with great success and his experience as observer, combined with his ability as an instructor, have enabled him to attain a very high degree of navigation-in-squadron. He has displayed consistent keenness, coolness and determination and has set a fine example to all."

Harper, twenty-seven, won this citation:

"He has carried out several long and dangerous low-level bombing and machine-gun attacks, some of them at night. On one occasion, despite intense anti-aircraft fire and searchlight activity, he made four runs over Benghasi Harbor at a height of twenty feet in a determined attempt to bomb an enemy ship. His keenness and courage have proved a source of inspiration."

GROWING AIR STRENGTH

The promise of Mr. Winston Churchill that there would be a great increase in the severity of the British aerial offensive against Germany and German-occupied territory as the weather improved this year is being fulfilled. It was a year ago when Great Britain won superiority over the Germans in the daylight air. There are evidences now that a similar superiority has been won in the night skies, for during months past the British have been striking far harder and with much more deadly effect than the enemy. Sunday night's raid on Cologne and other objectives was on the grand scale with 300 machines used and only five lost. There are good reasons to believe that from now on Germany will be subjected to the most intensive kind of bombardment any country has yet suffered and that the damage done will restrict her purposes on the Eastern Front as well as reducing any likelihood there is of an attempted invasion of the British Isles. The Russians for many weeks past have been taking a heavy toll of the Luftwaffe, another factor in the aerial situation which will both weaken German resistance to British bombardments as well as dimming the possibility of any new blitzkrieg offensive on the Eastern Front.

There are other hopeful evidences of the strengthening of the air power of the United Nations. For the time being at least the American and Australian flyers are in the ascendancy over the occupied Dutch East Indies and New Guinea. In Colombo, where the Japanese staged an air raid on Sunday, they received a severe setback; indeed, the destruction wrought among the attacking machines was out of all proportion to the damage they did. The episode over Ceylon has not been duplicated in the War since the Battle of Britain. The one dark spot in gathering air power of the United Nations is in Burma, where the Japanese seem to have complete control of the air. That condition may be rectified. Since it has been possible to dispatch planes, and in large numbers, to points in India and in Ceylon, it should be possible before long to bring them to bear on the battle for Burma.

THE CRISIS OF CIVILIZATION

Sir Richard Livingstone's essay on "The Crisis of Civilization" was printed in full in The Colonist two years ago. The thoughts expressed in that discourse are indeed of great importance, the dangers threatening us in our present situation are extreme, and our true interests are vitally concerned. It is desirable that public attention should again be directed to these matters, and as an article covering a full page of newspaper is rather formidable to some readers it will perhaps be useful to present the substance of that notable essay in briefer form.

If Sir Richard is right the crisis of civilization is only partly political. It has also been diagnosed as economic; but no diagnosis of the corruptions of the modern world will serve unless it goes to the root of the matter. What is wanted is not a merely political or economic analysis of the case, but an adequate theory of life. We must enquire into the system of beliefs and values which are the vital principle, the nerve that feeds and renews and keeps our civilization healthy.

Looking back we can see that the soul of our contemporary civilization is partly Greek and partly Christian, and that its living force comes from Palestine and from Greece. The major current of our political life is Christianity, the minor current Hellenism. What was the corrupting influence that polluted the whole stream? The answer is that the chief evils from which we are suffering today are due to our loss of faith in ultimate values and the disappearance, in certain countries, of justice and mercy. How did this come about? The present reign of the dictators is largely due to the kind of spineless "liberalism" in thought and opinion that culminated in nineteenth century agnosticism, the weakest of all moral and intellectual positions.

Habit has been called the great fly-wheel of society, and so it is, for we all live by it. Nevertheless there is a grave danger of living by habit without the support and guarantee of some sound intellectual principle. Mere habit is all very well in settled times, but it does not stand up to severe stress. When virtues are guaranteed and reinforced by clear thinking and a sound philosophy of life there is little danger, but what is likely to happen to mere habitual routine if the customary conditions undergo a change? The danger is that when times and conditions change, men are apt to change with them unless they have something within themselves more enduring than a mere set of decent habits. In certain countries of Europe today there has been a recrudescence of the barbarism which Christianity and Hellenism did so much to tame.

In those regions in which civilization has been destroyed and in those in which it has declined, to what agency may we look for reconstruction? Can the State be depended on to save civilization? The State possesses almost no qualification for such a task save mere compulsive power. It can keep order, but in itself it has no philosophy of the good life. It can provide a body but not a soul.

We must then look back to organized religion as a constructive agent. The Christian religion has lasted 1,900 years. If its teachings were universally acted on our problem would be solved. Nor can we afford to neglect the auxiliary aids of philosophy and literature. The former was in a very important sense the forerunner of Christianity, and systematic philosophy has its place and purpose today, even though it can in any case touch only a minority; but an educated minority is very important. Those who in the last resort lead and govern any country for its good are an educated minority. Literature also is a great force, a universal force which indeed touches in some form all who can read. Its task is to illuminate. It does in fact provide a view of the world and enables man to see life steadily and see it whole. A man's right attitude to the problems of life is a determination to persevere in the search for truth and to adopt the soundest theory he can find. Let him make of it "a raft in which to sail through life." The philosophy that, in Sir Richard's opinion, would purify and save the world would teach us that justice is real, not a mere fiction invented, as the dictator says, by the weak to protect themselves from the strong. It would teach that to ignore justice leads to chaos in which everyone fights for his own hand and no one prospers. It teaches that goodness, beauty and truth, and the great virtues are alone permanent and of permanent value. "Such a philosophy," he concludes, "may be regarded as complete in itself or as a praeparatio evangelica which leads to Christianity."

INDIA'S FUTURE

Tomorrow Sir Stafford Cripps is to give something in the nature of an interim report on the conversations he has been conducting with Indian leaders. He will be able to summarize their reactions to the offer of post-war home rule for India. No party in the country has accepted the offer outright. In all cases counter proposals have been made and one difficulty of reaching an agreement appears to hinge on what authority should have control at this time of the defence of the country. There are, of course, many other difficulties that lie in the way of settlement, and if one is to be reached on a basis of compromise it may take many months to work out the details. The fact that India is even now being attacked by Japan may have some bearing on the solution of her problem but there are many difficulties in the way which will take a lot of ironing out. The minority groups, and in India there are big minorities, view with distrust the plan whereby the All-India Party will dominate the Congress and they fear legislation which will infringe upon their present rights. They want better guarantees and it is difficult to know how these can be given if India is to secure autonomy.

In what is happening in India today the words of Thomas Babington Macaulay are being recalled, uttered when he was piloting the India Bill through the British House of Commons in 1833. They were:

"It may be that the public mind of India may expand under our system till it has outgrown that system; that by good government we may educate our subjects into a capacity for better government; that, having become instructed in European knowledge, they may, in some future age demand European institutions. Whether such a day will ever come, I know not; but never will I attempt to avert or retard it. Whenever it comes, it will be the proudest day in English history. To have found a great people sunk in the lowest depths of slavery and superstitution, to have so ruled them as to have made them desirous and capable of all the privileges of citizens, would indeed be a title of glory all our own. The sceptre may pass away from us. Unforeseen accidents may derange our most profound schemes of policy. Victory may be inconstant to our arms; but there are triumphs which are followed by no reverse. There is an empire exempt from all natural causes of decay. Those triumphs are the pacific triumphs of reason over barbarism; that empire is the imperishable empire of our arts and our morals, our literature and our laws."

The foregoing prophetic utterance accompanied the legislation putting an end to the trading monopoly of the East India Company and appointing a governing council for the country, a council of which Lord Macaulay was a member for a number of years.

CONSERVATION OF GASOLINE

Last year the retail sale of gasoline in this country reached a total of 980,430,000 gallons, an increase of more than 100,000,000 gallons over the amount used in 1940. The increase is in part attributed to the growing need for this fuel supply with the growing strength of the services. Last year, when it became apparent to the official mind that the losses sustained by the nations fighting the Axis were threatening their gasoline gasoline suupply the Oil Controller of Canada made an appeal to the people to reduce the consumption of the fuel for private use by 50 per cent. The response was almost negligible. Then, some months ago, the decision was reached to introduce the rationing system which went into effect on April 1. Under it the hope is that the consumption of gasoline for private use will be reduced by 20 per cent. In other words, last Autumn the Oil Controller held the belief that the reduction must be 50 per cent. Now 20 per cent is decreed by rationing.

Since the Autumn vast oil supplies in the Southwestern Pacific have fallen into the hands of the Japanese. Since then, too, a campaign has been in progress in the Western Atlantic that seems particularly directed against the destruction of oil tankers, thus reducing the tonnage for transporting the fuel to where it is most needed for war purposes. On the basis of simple logic it would seem, therefore, that the need for conservation is growing a more serious one all the time. If, then, the decreed conservation of 20 per cent of the fuel for private use in this country is considered sufficient it may well be doubted if Ottawa is taking the situation as seriously as it should.

SONNET

Poor soul, the centre of my sinful earth,
My sinful earth that rebel powers array,
Why dost thou pine within, and suffer dearth,
Painting thy outward walls so costly gay?
Why so large cost, having so short a lease,
Dost thou upon thy fading mansion spend?
Shall worms, inheritors of this excess,
Eat up thy charge? Is this thy body's end?
Then, soul, live thou upon thy servant's loss,
And let that pine to aggravate thy store;
Buy terms divine in selling hours of dross;
Within be fed, without be rich no more:
So shalt thou feed on Death, that feeds on men,
And, Death once dead, there's no more dying then.

—William Shakespeare.

NOD

Softly along the road of evening,
In a twilight dim with rose,
Wrinkled with age, and drenched with dew,
Old Nod, the shepherd, goes.

His drowsy flock streams on before him
Their fleeces charged with gold,
To where the sun's last beam leans low
On Nod the shepherd's fold.

The hedge is quick and green with brier,
From their sand the conies creep:
And all the birds that fly in heaven
Flock singing home to sleep.

His lambs outnumber a noon's roses,
Yet, when night's shadows fall,
His blind old sheep-dog, Slumber-soon,
Misses not one of all.

His are the quiet steeps of dreamland,
The waters of no more pain,
His ram's bell rings 'neath an arch of stars
"Rest, rest, and rest again."

—Walter de la Mare.

THE WEEK

Western Front (906-912 days)—Confirmed reports indicated that the British raid on St. Nazaire had been a telling one. Aerial photos showed the main dock gate gone, power and pumping stations wrecked and considerable havoc caused by the bursting of five tons of explosives in the destroyer Campbeltown, which had been driven at twenty knots into the gates as far as her bridge work. That was at 1:34 a.m. The blast followed at 4 a.m., and caused demolition on a large scale. British losses were less than 100 men, all told. The time factor refuted the German version of the raid, and aerial photographs established the extent of the actual damage done. Returning Commandos told how motor boats and planes had drawn the fire of the port's defences, and how the Campeltown, her guns ablaze, had rammed the dock gates. Motor boats picked up the survivors of her crew, while shore parties demolished pumping, power and other dock works, in hard fighting. Naval and military commanders remained until the last, and were believed captured. The returning party, covered by Beaufort bombers, made the 270-mile voyage back to England in good order; though several E-boats were lost in the raid itself. The submarine haven may be out of commission for a year, British advices said. There followed a three-day attack on a British convoy to Russia, with action in the Barents Sea. One German destroyer, three submarines and a naval supply ship were sunk; another destroyer and a fourth submarine were damaged, and the convoy went through to its Russian port. British and Russian vessels participated equally in the action, in which hits on the cruiser Trinidad and the destroyer Eclipse were acknowledged. Both vessels, however, made port. German reports that a 10,000-ton merchantman in the convoy had been sunk were denied. Elsewhere, the Admiralty announced the loss of the cruiser Naiad, in unstated action.

At Murmansk itself, the Russians announced they had dropped thirteen German dive bombers, for a loss of two machines, in subsidiary air attacks. At mid-week Swedish reports stated eleven Norwegian vessels impounded at Goteborg had made a dash for the open sea, and that four of them had been sunk by German gunfire. Two others were said to be blazing or beached; while the fate of the balance was not stated. Confirmation was lacking. It was a week of increasing air action on the western front. R.A.F. machines carried out one of the heaviest raids of the war against Luebeck; bombed western and northwestern German towns on three nights; raided the Matford truck factory at Poissy, outside Paris, twice, and drove hard against Boulogne, Le Havre, St. Omer and other port and rail centres, in continuing attacks through spotty weather. The Luftwaffe replied on three occasions, against southeastern and southwestern English towns, and also in the south of Wales. Fighter clashes reached a peak by day over the German-held occupied coasts of Belguim and Holland; the R.A.F. taking down thirteen of the enemy in one action. Twenty-six British bombers were lost in night raids, pointing to the extent and scope of the actions. A British air patrol found seven E-boats off the Norwegian coast and sank five of them. Submarine warfare continued in the Atlantic, with the distressed crews of four Allied vessels reaching port during the week. They told of sinkings off the southeast coast of North America, off South America, and in the Caribbean; some survivors having gone through two rescues in the process. There were isolated reports of other sinkings, but these were not confirmed. Canadian air crews and infantry details landed in Great Britain, after safe convoy across the Atlantic. In Great Britain and in Canada it was announced that this Dominion's forces in the United Kingdom would be raised to an army, of two corps, with Lieutenant-General A. G. L. MacNaughton in charge. At Riom, the Vichy French trials were postponed.

Eastern Front (281-288 days)—Hard fighting at pressure points featured action on the eastern front during the week. Both sides felt out the strength of their opponents in tank and artillery clashes, at times followed by cavalry action. On the whole, however, reported changes were slight, while in the southwest action was slowed by heavy thaws after one of the coldest Winters on record. Staraya Russa, Rzhev, Bryansk, Orel, Kharkov and Taganrog remained in German hands. At Staraya Russa, bitter German counters were stopped, and Russian guns shelled the entrapped Sixteenth German Army effectively. There was hard fighting in the Kalinin region, where a Russian wedge drove between Staraya Russa and Rzhev. In a forty-eight-hour battle there, the Russians claimed to have inflicted 22,000 casualties on the enemy. Forty-three German blockhouses were taken in outpost fighting in the Leningrad zone. A Russian thrust towards Bryansk in the Smolensk region was met with a counter-attack, with action still in progress as the week ended. There were reports of two successive German attacks in the Kharkov zone, both of which were absorbed and stopped. From Kharkov to the Crimea reports were meagre, but a Russian drive had been freshly launched from Sevastopol, relieving the position of defenders there. Russian communiques claimed material successes in the Leningrad, Smolensk and Donets region, and spoke of reserves of 3,000,000 freshly trained men ready to take their places in the line for whatever Spring might bring. There was a light raid on Moscow; three German machines being downed, and two stragglers penetrating ground and air defences at one point. On the whole, however, the Russians said they were getting the better of the air fighting, claiming 126 German machines for the loss of twenty-six during the period. Russian morale continued high.

Central Front—Coinciding with British-Indian parleys on defence and Dominion status, Japanese demonstration raids in the Indian Ocean featured action on a broad front, stretching from the Mediterranean to Burma and Siam. The most ambitious raid was a thrust by seventy-five Japanese bombers from an air-carrier on Colombo, Ceylon. Fifty-seven machines failed to return to their mother ship; twenty-seven being shot down outright, thirty damaged and only eighteen raiders escaping the barrage of British fighters and anti-aircraft crews. Light raids followed on Nizampatam harbor and Cocanada, in Madras Province, both of which did little damage. A reported Japanese landing in force at Akyab, on the west coast of Burma, was denied point blank by British headquarters at New Delhi. There, conversations continued between Sir Stafford Cripps, with General Wavell, and leaders of the Congress party, Moslem League and other sects in India, with no ultimate decision as yet announced. Great Britain's offer was free Dominion status to India after the war, with steps to be taken now leading to that end, and British co-operation and support in the defence of India hereself, under an Imperial war council. Axis sources, by radio and otherwise, made a consolidated attack on the negotiations including spurious reports of the Akyab landing and many similar rumors. In Burma itself, British and East Indian regulars, with Chinese Allies on their left flank, withdrew under pressure to a shorter line, north and west of their original positions at Prome and Toungoo. In a five-day stand at Toungoo, Chinese troops wiped out several thousand of the enemy, before evacuating the town and taking up new positions to the northwest. British columns made two quick raids south of Prome towards Rangoon and then fell back north of Prome, under renewed attack by Japanese columns with increasing air cover and 4,000 Siamese levies. Japanese planes carried out a destructive raid on Mandalay, and also visited two other towns in northern Burma. Allied planes replied on Rangoon, and Chiengmai. Action in the Mediterranean was relatively light. The Luftwaffe drove against Malta in two day-long assaults and lost fifty planes in the process. Malta's garrison stood off the raids, and asked London ironically to repeat the week-end football scores over the B.B.C., drowned out by the bombing. The R.A.F. visited Bengasi, Derna, Maturba and other Libyan ports, and destroyed four Axis supply ships off Bengasi at midweek.

In the Pacific—With the exception of Bataan, where Japanese land forces made two attacks in the centre of the line, there was little reported movement in the Pacific. United States troops stopped both attacks at Bataan and retrieved ground yielded at the height of the assaults. Three hours of artillery bombardment and incessant day bombing preceded the action; while Corregidor was under air attack on five days out of the week. Further south, a United States force, with Filipino supports, carried out a quick raid on Zamboanga; burning stores and wrecking Japanese supply posts before withdrawing. In Australia, defence preparations continued, but field action was light. Port Darwin and Port Moresby were raided by light Japanese air forces on alternate days. Allied replies on Lae, Salamaua and Kupang accounted for thirty-three enemy planes and some shipping. Reports of Japanese concentrations in Java and Singapore were received at Melbourne, where it was said eight divisions were mustering in that zone. Floods on New Guinea ended the incursion into Markham Valley; there was one report that the Japanese sought a by-pass through the mountains towards the south shore. United States naval sources reported American submarines had secured hits on two Japanese cruisers, two seaplane tenders and a naval supply ship during the week. The loss of the United States air tender Langley, the naval tanker Pecos and the destroyer Peary, in earlier actions between Java and Port Darwin, was conceded. Great Britain announced that two warships, the Poona and the Lucknow, had been added to the Royal Indian Navy. An Allied summary said 1,027 Japanese planes had been destroyed in action since December 7 last.

TRANSFER TO U.S. ARMY

LONDON, April 6 (CP)—Group Capt. Harold Fowler, director of United States personnel in the Royal Canadian Air Force, was transferred to the United States army today, the first officer of the R.C.A.F. to do so. He was sworn in with the rank of colonel at a ceremony in the United States Embassy.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of April 7, 1892)

Will Celebrate Her Majesty's Birthday—The Indians of the North Arm are making preparations for a grand potlach to be held on the 25th of May, when canoe races and all kinds of sport will be indulged in, and $2,000 worth of blankets and 2,000 silver dollars will be given away.

General Leave—At 1 o'clock yesterday, general leave was granted to two hundred men from H.M.S. Warspite. At the same time general leave was granted to a portion of the crew of the Mohican. The Warspite's leave extends to 1 p.m. on Thursday. Last night, while the big guns in Washington and London were discussing, no doubt, the new phase of the Behring Sea question, the British and American tars in Victoria were parading the streets arm-in-arm in good-fellowship, and all happy.

"Waste Not, Want Not"—Four boys, each of whom had a loaf of bread in hand, amused themselves, last evening, by pelting the staff of life at one another on Yates Street. Evidently none of them had ever been in want of a square meal, but each well deserved a good flogging.

ON THE RECORD

—By DOROTHY THOMPSON

INDIA

The outstanding fact about political freedom in the world today is that it is indivisible. The freedom of India depends upon the freedom of the nations—the freedom of Russia, of China, of Britain, of America, of the smaller nations. Indian freedom can only be secure and develop in the room of the larger freedom of us all.

This fact is primary. The second fact is that our defence is indivisible, and that defence compels a common strategy. We have a coalition cause and must wage a coalition war.

The third fact is the element of time, that is the instrument of those who use it.

The fourth fact is that the friends of India are in the left wing circles in the democratic countries, who have fought India's battles before the bar of public opinion in all lands where public opinion is still allowed to function; and that in Asia India's two great friends are China and Russia.

Whatever action India takes must be taken in the light of these facts. Otherwise her leadership is agitatory and not statesmanlike.

If India's actions prejudice the political freedom of China and Russia, India will be without a friend. If India's actions deal a blow to the prestige of Sir Stafford Cripps and that branch of British opinion which has been as pro-Indian as the Indians themselves, India will be giving aid and comfort to Imperialist interests all over the world.

The British offer to India is extremely far-reaching. It is a promise of independence as complete as that of Canada or Australia—a status in a world Commonwealth that includes even the right to secede. It bids fair, furthermore, in the event of our victory, to be a state in an association of nations that goes beyond the British world union . . . that is a global union of the free. The offer, in the nature of things, carries the tacit guarantee of the United States of America.

NO BRITISH PRESSURE

The British leave India complete political freedom. The Cripps offer expresses willingness to accept any solution reached by India herself, as to the form of her political organization. There is no British pressure, either upon Moslems or princes or Congress. There is expressed willingness to accept either a multiple Indian commonwealth or a unified one; and the Indians, demanding freedom, can hardly ask the British to commit one last act of coercion against any group before pulling out.

India is not a nation, in the sense that France, or Germany, or the United States are nations. India, like Europe, is a peninsula of Asia and a congeries of peoples, speaking different languages, having different customs and ways of life. That these peoples wish to recreate themselves free of any colonial status is just and reasonable, in harmony with the trend of history, and receives the seal of the spirit of justice among democratically-minded men.

But the wisdom of history tells us that the recreation of India in a manner satisfactory to the Indians themselves cannot be accomplished by a decree, or in a moment. Even the creation of the United States, out of a confederation of colonies whose people were almost wholly of one race and one mind and one religion, took many critical years. And there was not, at the moment, another enemy at the gate, another and more predatory empire waiting to pounce upon the leavings of its predecessor.

If the United Nations win this war, the heyday of colonial imperialism is over. If the Axis win it, a new, dynamic, and ruthless imperialism is at hand. The heir to the Kipling tradition of the white man's burden is not Britain, which has been moving steadily away from empire in the last twenty years, but the Germany of Hitler, and the Italy of Mussolini.

VIEWS OF AXIS LEADERS

Hitler's ideas about India are clearly expressed in Mein Kampf. He believes in the sovereignty of the white man over the "inferior" peoples; Britain's tolerance he interprets only as a sign of complete degeneration. And Mussolini has the same viewpoint about Africa.

Japan's attitude is no different. The Japanese are the self-selected master folk and God-ordained rulers of the East, for which viewpoint they are appointed honorary Aryans by the Nazis.

Nehru knows this. He is pro-democratic. But unfortunately sympathies will not determine the future of political freedom, but victory or defeat.

The disorganization of India's defences is not a matter of indifference to America. The overwhelming majority of public opinion in America is anti-imperialist and for India's freedom. But that support is not a one-way affair. Neither the British, the Americans, nor, I should think, the Russians, are prepared to allow the Indians any terms they desire.

If the Indians should join the Japanese or become subservient to them they would be our enemies; if they should choose to enter a colored alliance against the white race, they would be our enemies; for no people are so quixotic as to wish to free others at the price of their own freedom. Thus, freedom, today, is synonymous with co-operation.

And nothing can be more fatal to a rising nation than preoccupation with the grievances of the past. The past cannot be changed. The future is what counts. That is the whole sense and meaning of Washington's Farewell Address. It is a warning to an infant nation not to freeze the pattern of its policy by its past resentments or its past gratitudes, but to live in realism at all times.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

A member of the City Council apparently does not believe in the old adage "Waste Not, Want Not." While we were talking to him along Broad Street he fished in a pocket for cigarettes, found one in a packet, rolled up the tinfoil and threw it in a gutter. Both the Salvage Corps of B.C. and Queen Alexandra Solarium have been collecting valuable tinfoil for some time . . . A woman drove into a service station on Oak Bay Avenue and asked for five gallons of gasoline. "Have you coupons, please?" the proprietor asked. "Coupons?" the woman asked. "What on earth for?" The man patiently explained that no gasoline on and after April 1 could be obtained without a gasoline ration booklet. "I never heard of such a thing," the woman snorted. "Don't you read the papers?" the proprietor grinned. "Of course I do, but I do not remember reading anything about such regulations," the woman replied . . . There is quite a difference between voluntary and paid overtime. The patriotic staff of a Federal Government office not far from the city was asked to donate its services in an emergency to carry out a task the office manager figured on a paid basis would take at least two nights to complete. He informed the men it would be impossible to secure any grant to cover overtime pay. In the end the staff toiled so diligently that the work was completed in one night . . . Today Detective Inspector John H. Rogers of the city police department celebrates his thirtieth year of service. We wish him lots of clues, good health and a long life . . . Last Thursday members of the City Council were directed to the lower floor of the Empress Hotel to attend a meeting with the Minister of National Defence. "This way, sir," a waiter said to the leading city father, and the others followed into a room set for an elaborate dinner. "Say this is fine. They are going to feed us," one remarked. Two rushed upstairs to telephone their wives they would not be home for dinner. Others who had eaten guessed they would at least struggle through dessert and coffee. Then the aldermen found they were in the wrong room.

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

OLD SPECTACLES

Sir,—Last Fall you were good enough to publish a letter of mine asking for old spectacles for our Spitfire Fund. We received a splendid response from this publicity and glasses came in from every part of Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands. We have now realized $495 from the sale of the metal in these old spectacles and hope to raise, at least, a thousand dollars before the year is out. We wondered if you would give some more space in your paper to thank those who sent in glasses to us and to state that we are continuing the campaign and hope that no one will hoard a pair of spectacles when the need is so great for aircraft. If the glasses are taken out of their cases and sent in cotton wool the postage will be negligible. Spectacles can be sent to the Sir Charles Tupper Chapter, I.O.D.E. Spectacle Fund, Vancouver, or to the Metropolis Hotel, Victoria.

QUEEN'S CANADIAN FUND

Sir,—On the first birthday of the Queen's Canadian Fund, April 8, and as the fund reaches the million-dollar mark, the chairman and executive committee wish to offer their profound gratitude to the people of British Columbia who, under the leadership of the Rotary Clubs of the province, have sent generous and consistent gifts to all the civilian war victims of Britain.

The subscription lists from your province have shown that all sections of the community have contributed, and that the methods of raising money have been most ingenious and varied. It is clear that the people of British Columbia appreciate the value to those in distress of spontaneous sympathy and that they realize the importance of maintaining the morale of the civilian defenders of the fortress of Britain.

I am proud to convey also the grateful thanks of Her Majesty the Queen, as expressed to me recently in London, to those who have subscribed towards the splendid total contribution of the Queen's Fund.

JOHN G. McCONNELL,
Chairman, The Queens' Canadian Fund.
231 St. James Street, Montreal,

TWO PANTS OR NOT

Sir,—A coat and vest with pants, two pairs, doubles the time a suit will wear; cloth Canadians thus may save will help defeat the German knave.

The great ancient Roman statesman, Cicero, said in one of his orations: "Magnum est parsimonia vectigal," the free translation of which is "economy is the best revenue."

Two Dutch Forces Fighting in Java

UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 6 (AP).—Two Netherlands forces of considerable size still are battling the Japanese in Java, Lieut.-Gen. Hubertus J. Van Mook, of the Netherlands East Indies, told General Douglas MacArthur today.

The forces, under command of Generals Schilling and Pressman, are well supplied with food and munitions and should keep Japanese forces occupied for some time, Van Mook said.

The Netherlands official conferred at length with MacArthur on the role which the Dutch are expected to play in the war in the Pacific.

CRIPPS' PLAN IS ANALYZED

India Must Develop National Spirit Before Securing Independence

A true national spirit has not yet come into being in India, and until her political parties "come to their senses" and unite she cannot be trusted with "the dangerous weapon of independent government," Sir Robert Holland, who lived in India for forty years before coming to Victoria to retire, told the Overseas League at its meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Sir Robert, an authority on the Far East, said that for the past century the British Government has led the Indians "up the pathway to dominion status," training them to govern themselves.

A stumbling block delaying the adoption of Sir Stafford Cripps' new plan for Indian independence has been the British Government's desire to continue the direction of her armed forces, the speaker said.

WANT FULL CONTROL

"The defence of India will, for the duration of the war, be under British direction. Indians regard this as an insult. Australia is confronted by almost the same problem. General MacArthur, an American citizen, is in command, and Prime Minister Curtin has said that during the war the defence of Australia will be left in his hands—the civil Government will not interfere.

"I don't think American public opinion will approve the rejection of the Cripps' plan by India. It is possible some compromise may be reached, but the outlook is not good," Sir Robert told his audience.

"If the constitutional scheme is to be written by the Indians themselves, Britain cannot undertake to enforce it. The Hindus want the use of their majority, and they want the Moslems compelled to accept the scheme. Who will compel them?

"That difficulty is not solved by the British Government's proposal that Moslems should contract out of the constitution if they so desire. The Government now in force in India is essentially Indian. There are 370 European civil servants in a community of 400,000,000 souls. It doesn't look as though India is under the heel of the British."

WORK IS REVIEWED

Sir Robert, who presided at the meeting in the absence of President Arthur Darrell, was thanked for his address by Boyd Brydon.

Members were advised that contributions to the league during March totaled $139.30, of which $64.75 was sent to London. Contributions for all purposes since January 1 have amounted to $672.90. Two shipments of clothing, each weighing a ton, were sent overseas last month, and so far twenty-seven tons of clothing have been shipped.

Silent tribute was paid three members who had died during the month—Miss Lindsay, a life member; Sergeant-Observer J. H. McMullin and J. Musgrave. Mrs. Arthur Darrell reported on the work of the knitting committee.

CANADIANS TEST MOBILE LAUNDRY

Victoria Man Member of "Soapsud Fusiliers" Somewhere in England

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, April 6 (CP).—Even the laundrymen are getting new mobile equipment in the Canadian army.

The "soapsud fusiliers" will follow the field units now in huge trucks and trailers carrying complete field laundries, each able to wash and dry clothes and blankets for several thousand men.

A pilot model of this new mobile laundry has been demonstrated successfully in England and now eighty of the truck-and-trailer units have been ordered. They are Canadian-designed and American-manufactured.

Lieut. Ernie Fidlayson, of Ottawa, brought the pilot model overseas with a special demonstration crew of seven Ordnance Corps men.

The demonstration crew included Staff-Sergeant C. E. Swift, of Falkland, B.C.; Cpl. Melville McMullen, of Coleman, Alta., and Pte. Russ Cooney, of Victoria.

One of these eleven-ton laundry units costs between $16,000 and $18,000. It washes and dries 175 pounds of laundry, or forty-two blankets, an hour.

When the washing is done at one spot, the whole unit can pack up and move off in six minutes.

Bulgaria Suffers Damage by Quake

One hundred houses were destroyed, it said, but there was no report on casualties. Tutrakan is on the south bank of the Danube in Dobruja, about thirty-five miles southeast of Bucharest, capital of Rumania.

CLEAN-UP PAINT-UP CAMPAIGN NOW ON THROUGHOUT CITY

Junior Chamber of Commerce Again Sponsors Yearly Community Improvement Period—Asks Co-operation of All Citizens in Making City Cleaner, Healthier, More Beautiful

MONDAY, April 6, not only wound up the Easter holiday period, but ushered in a yearly campaign that has become international in scope. Each Spring one week has been set aside as Paint-Up and Clean-Up Week, and this year Victorians have been asked to co-operate during the week April 6 to 11 in making their city beautiful.

This year the attention of all is being taken up with important war matters and the leisure time of past years has been greatly curtailed, but no people are so busy that they can't devote some time to the cleaning up of their own yards.

What an inspiring sight it is to see everybody in a community at work in sympathetic accord with the crusade for a brighter, cleaner and more beautiful city. There was a time when men would not fuss around their homes to any considerable degree. They felt it was all professional work that should be done by hired help. This is not so today. In every home and yard you will see men, women and children on the job. And there is a song in the air, the song of civic pride. Artisans, each an expert in his line, join this procession. The painter, the tinsmith, the plumber, the roofer and the interior decorator. Hundreds of trained hands expect to make this crusade the very greatest in all the history of the movement.

REPAIRS PROFITABLE

It is a necessary and profitable triumvirate. A perfectly appointed house, recently painted, may not be dust free or immaculate in the hidden corners of attic or cellar. A broken fence will mar the appearance of an entire yard, dark walls will nullify beautiful furniture in an otherwise wonderful room, dull linoleum or woodwork which needs attention can make a kitchen unsightly.

Rugged hands are at work the nation over. These are the hands of energy, ambition and civic pride. They are Empire builders, making more beautiful homes, which, in turn, compose more beautiful cities, and at last, in the aggregate, forming a progressive nation.

As a result of these rugged hands, neglect, dirt, rust and decay are on the run once more, prodded from their dark corners by flashing garden and clean-up tools.

Nothing that harms health, nothing that depresses the spirit will be tolerated. This paint-up and clean-up crusade is nation wide, but always, in every section and along every street, the individual worker is absolutely essential. "One for all and all for one" is an enobling slogan, which fits this situation with peculiar significance. You, in your own right, are one of the crusaders, with obligations and duties not alone to your community, your city, but to yourself. A nation is measured by the character of its homes. Leave no task undone that will make these homes more liveable, more pleasing to the eye of the passerby.

Victoria has long been noted for its well-kept homes, beautiful grounds and surrounding scenic wonderland. Even although this year the flood of outside visitors we have welcomed in the past is not expected, Victorians should not allow that thought to lull them into a sense of carelessness regarding their own city. It is where they must continue to live and work, and a clean city will not only add to cheerfulness, but will help to keep up morale during dark times.

Victorians have a wonderful new creed, voiced by those citizens who appreciate attractive surroundings. "Home shall be the abiding place of happiness, content, mutual interest. Home shall be a pleasant place in which to live and in which to raise families. Flowers shall bloom and rooms glisten in the sunlight. Nowhere shall neglect, nor the mood of the sloven be expressed. Each to his appointed task. Each, eager and willing to do his share. And because each unites to commemorate this ideal, the week of April 6 to 11 shall be every day dedicated to better homes, a more attractive city, and therefore nobler citizenship."

Go "shopping" with this one idea in mind—of having readily accessible all those things which enter into keeping the home in apple-pie order, inside and out. For example, there should be a "paint shelf" in every cellar, with brushes for various purposes. There should be turpentine and kalsomine and linseed oil and paints and enamels and varnishes. You'll need them when you least expect it. The kitchen cupboard should have a plentiful supply of soaps and cleaning fluids and soap and scrubbing brushes and the wealth of material which science has provided for the specific use of the housewife to make her tasks easier.

WALLPAPERS INEXPENSIVE

Variety of Patterns and Colors That Can Now Be Cleaned

Not so long ago the woman who wanted to dress up her house for Spring and Summer in bright new wallpaper ran smack up against a minor financial crisis when she considered buying washable paper. But not so, nowadays.

Wallpaper designers have produced handsome paper in washable form at a price for average budgets.

Lively gay pinks, soft greyed green, chartreuse with the freshness of budding leaves, slate blue, cocoa-brown with purplish undertones—these are just a few of the new shades of wallpaper available this Spring.

Dusty shades in figured as well as plain papers are the most attention-getting at the moment. Soft peach or rose, with greyish lights, periwinkle or hyacinth blue, rose-beige, pearl grey, yellow with a hint of mustard in it are simply stunning.

IF YOU HAVE PICTURES

If you have pictures you love or a figured rug, plain wallpaper is your best bet. If you've been cautious and had your living-room walls done in cream, oyster white or very pale grey for years and years, you might put palest soft pink paper on them this Spring. With these, a grape rug, faded pink slip covers and a blue bowl or two would be lovely.

But suppose you have only one picture worth hanging and it turns out that you aren't very fond of that after all? You'll consider scenic wallpaper. In this category, you can pay fabulous sums per sheet, but you can find wonderful scenics in popular priced papers also.

Imagine your walnut dining-room papered in hunting scenes with pale cream background, huntsmen in soft browns and here and there a "pink" coat. Or your nautical-minded husband's den papered with a scenic that has a background the color of a bluish-green sea with graceful schooners skittering across the water.

Many new wallpapers have been expressly designed for the large rooms of Victorian, Southern—Colonial and Georgian houses. Floral patterns are featured and always distinguished by designs of lavish scale and color. Such a paper is "Daisy Chain" with heavy garlands of large daisies looped in graceful festoons over backgrounds in wonderful colors.

For Colonial, Early American and French Provincial rooms, small-patterned papers in quaint florals, all-over designs and plaids (suggestive of homespuns and ginghams) are recommended. Also Chinoiserie patternings. And the latter, showing Oriental figurines, are high-lighted for patrician rooms with eighteenth century English furniture, too.

SHEFFIELD (CP). — A cheque for £2,000 ($9,000), three-quarters of it raised by employees of a steel firm, has been donated to the Aid for Russia Fund.

Great Britain Geared For Total War Effort

Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield Addresses Women's Canadian Club on "Post-War Reconstruction" —Tribute to United Contribution in All Fields

Visualizing a world in which an international organization built on sounder lines than the League of Nations, a world in which there is international economic control, no trade restrictions, no restriction on the power of production, and founded on co-operation rather than competition, Right Hon. Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor in Ramsay MacDonald's Government, spoke to the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon on "Post-war Reconstruction." Miss Bondfield, addressing the crowded ballroom of club members and guests, inspired her listeners by her eloquence, her practical understanding of present problems and her heartfelt tribute to the part which Great Britain is playing in the present conflict.

She paid high honor to the sacrifices of everyone in the British Isles, especially the women, and she pointed out that Great Britain "has already undergone her revolution of fundamental thought in relation to daily living." A change in the way of life has been necessary and the country had been so near danger that "we could not delude ourselves regarding our personal responsibility." Men and women had learned to work together and each was ready to assume that individual responsibility which was so important for the good of the whole. The question of rationing had become almost a moral issue, and Miss Bondfield added "we despise that individual who would dare to try to get just a little more than his neighbor or than was his due. It simply isn't done in England now."

HIGHER OUTPUT

There was, too, she went on, an equalitarian responsibility to authority. It had been necessary to organize labor, materials and finances, with the result that a population of 22,000,000 British workers were competing in industry with 140,000,000 Nazi workers and the monthly production was now equal. So great an effort had been made that aircraft production in Britain now exceeds that of the United States, she said. Higher taxes were being met with little complaint, and any grumbling was of "a not very serious nature," she went on. Women were engaged in every trade with the exception of digging coal in the pits. Even married women were now being called up and the Government was providing nurseries for their children. The Government was seeing to it that workers were placed in whatever occupation or district they were most needed, and this often entailed the moving of thousands of men from one vital point to another. Both employers and employees were aware of the danger which they shared and "there will be no stoppage of work," Miss Bondfield said. Anyone interfering with output would be dealt with severely.

"We are beginning to be food conscious," she continued, in speaking of the communal British restaurants which have been established and in which a properly balanced midday meal may be obtained. The result of the rationing and food restrictions had meant that people are better in health. She attributed this to better diet and the fact that people have so much to do that they have not time to think about themselves. "Since the war there has been less hysteria, less neurosis, fewer suicides and a better standard of living," she said.

CAMARADERIE IN SHELTERS

Miss Bondfield spoke of the wonderful camaraderie among the shelter dwellers and of the orchestras and classes which have been formed among those who find their nightly rest underground. She paid a tribute to the leadership given by the Federated Women's Institutes regarding food preservation, helping to form public opinion as to the crime of waste. She told of the kitchen convoys which were doing valuable work throughout the country, in which "there is not a household which is not taking its share."

There could be no future "unless we win and unless we destroy the Nazi philosophy that would deny the responsibility and freedom of the individual, a philosophy which would replace the Bible with 'Mein Kampf,' and that would hold other nations in slavery. We would rather die than accept this philosophy, but no matter how many individuals may lose their lives, Great Britain will live if every individual does his part to help build a better world on true Christianity."

TO PRESENT PLAY

Mrs. W. H. Yardley expressed the thanks of the club to Miss Bondfield. Mrs. T. H. Johns, the president, was in the chair. She announced that the Victoria High School play, "The Boy Abe," which was given such high praise in the recent schools drama festival, will be presented at the next club meeting and Mr. H. S. Hurn will give a short talk on "The Place of Drama in Everyday Life." Mrs. Johns also appealed for donations of furnishings for the C.W.A.C. recreation room in the new hostel at Gordon Head, and anyone wishing to assist is asked to get in touch with Mrs. F. G. Aldous. The club members have been invited to hear the address by Mr. L. W. Brockington, K.C., at the Men's Canadian Club tomorrow, at 1 o'clock, following the men's luncheon.

Attention was drawn to the United Nations Victory Fair to be held at the Crystal Garden on May 5 under the joint auspices of the Women's Canadian Club and the Kinsmen Club, and members were asked to assist. Mrs. Alan Campbell is general convener for the Women's Canadian Club.

Two delightful solos by Mrs. J. Townsend, with Mrs. C. C. Warn as accompanist, were enjoyed prior to Miss Bondfield's address.

VACANT PLACE

The minister had preached for an hour and a quarter on the prophets—all the greater prophets and then the minor ones in turn. "Now we come to Habakkuk," he said. "Where shall we put him?"

"He can have my seat," said a wearied listener. "I'm awa' hame!"

Programmes Help Shower

The first of the Shower of Dimes radio programmes will be heard tonight over radio station CJVI at 8 o'clock, when the Arts Club of Victoria will present the play, "Doctor's Orders." Altogether four programmes will be given during April over the local station in the interests of the "shower," on Tuesday of each week from 8 to 8:30 p.m. CJVI has kindly donated the time, and all of the artists are contributing their services.

The Solarium Junior League, which is promoting the third annual April Shower of Dimes in aid of the crippled children at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, has announced that a talent contest will be held on Friday, April 24, at the Shrine Auditorium. Any person over the age of fourteen years is invited to attend and take part. Applications should be sent in not later than Saturday, April 18, to the Solarium Office, Pemberton Building, Victoria, giving name, address, age and nature of "effort." Valuable prizes in war savings certificates have been donated as prizes, and the winners will appear on the final radio programme on April 28.

All donations to the Shower of Dimes should be sent to the Solarium Junior League, Victoria, B.C.

SUBMIT PLAN FOR WORKING

Shipyard Employees Make Alternative Proposal to Federal Labor Department

A WEST COAST CANADIAN PORT, April 6 (CP).—A plan for institution of a six-day week in British Columbia shipyards, "under which shipyard employees would work five days and lay off on the sixth, has been submitted to the Federal Department of Labor by union officials here.

The scheme would replace the twenty-four-hour day, seven-day work week which had been scheduled to go into effect in British Columbia shipyards on or before April 1. It was agreed to by shipyard operators and union officials following a visit to the Pacific Coast recently by Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell. Shipyard operators and union officials have been meeting continuously in an effort to get the seven-day plan in operation. To date they have been unsuccessful.

All shipyards closed down here Good Friday and one of them closed Saturday at noon. Confusion over the rights of workers to overtime pay during the holiday and Saturday was given as the reason for the shutdowns.

In a statement issued today, Harold Winch, Leader of the C.C.F. Opposition in the British Columbia Legislature, said union agreements entitled shipyard workers to double pay for Good Friday. He said the employers wanted them to work for straight time.

The statement said, in part: "The shutdowns should show the Government and the public the need for immediate clarification of labor policies to recognize that the only method of obtaining an all-out war effort is for representatives of workers to function on all policy and administration boards connected with the war."

COMMENCE WORK TODAY

Awarded a contract for the construction of the new Royal Canadian Naval College building at Hatley Park, Luney Brothers will commence work on the foundations for the structure today. The three-story college building will be of concrete construction and will cost in the neighborhood of $340,000.

THREE SHIPS ESCAPE

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP).—Three merchant ships have put into port safely "following incidents with enemy submarines at sea," the United States Navy announced today, identifying them only as a large Panamanian ship, a large United States ship and a medium-sized United States ship. The Navy gave no additional information here about the "incidents."

WORKED ONLY ONE WEEK IN TWO

Sciatica Kept Him at Home

It is the wife who sends us this information about her husband's troubles. She writes:—"For some time past, my husband has been able to work only one week in two, on account of sciatica. He suffered so much from it that he could scarcely move for the pain. We tried many things, but without result. Then we saw in the papers an account of the good results that had been obtained from Kruschen Salts, and we decided to give them a trial.

For twelve months past, my husband has been taking his 'little dose' of Kruschen every morning. Now, he has no more trouble with the sciatica, and is working regularly."—(Mrs.) M.

Doctors estimate that one-half of civilized humanity suffers from partial constipation. This condition results in an unsuspected residue of waste matter, which poisons the blood and produces sciatica, as well as many of the mystery aches and pains from which people suffer. Kruschen keeps the organs of elimination in perfect trim, so that every particle of poisonous waste material is expelled gently, regularly and completely.

Kruschen is a British product, obtainable at all drug stores, 25c. and 75..

Fishing Vessels May Be Called in Case of Invasion

VANCOUVER, April 6 (CP).—Instructions issued today to the British Columbia fishing fleet by the commanding officer, Pacific Command, indicated that boats in the fleet may be called into active service in event of an invasion threat.

The instructions, issued through Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fifisheries in Vancouver, state that "should an emergency arise which might require use of the fishing fleet for movement of troops or stores, the boats will be contacted by seaplane and given necessary instructions."

Fishing vessels at sea will be warned whenever possible by patrol planes if hostile aircraft, surface craft or submarines are reported. The warning will be a series of long flashes directed at the fishing craft by means of a signalling lamp.

Fishboats are warned to scatter if an alarm is sounded to avoid presenting a compact target to the enemy. The instructions declare it is important that main navigation channels be kept clear.

TAKING TOLL OF SHIPPING

Italian Submarine Said to Be Operating in Western Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla., April 6 (AP). — The captain of a medium-sized British freighter, sunk in West Indian waters March 13, is convinced that an Italian submarine was taking its toll of shipping in the Western Atlantic.

One member of the crew, who died of a heart attack, was the only casualty when the submarine torpedoed and shelled his vessel, Capt. J. J. Egerton said. The remaining fifty-seven in the ship's company were picked up after forty-two hours in lifeboats and were taken to Nassau, where the sinking was announced March 17.

"I am certain the sub was of the large Italian class," said Egerton, a greying, sixty-five-year-old veteran of more than forty years at sea, after he and the other survivors were brought to Miami.

"After we abandoned ship, the sub circled our four lifeboats, and the captain shouted out to ask us whether we were all right and whether we needed anything. He spoke very good English, but it was easy to tell that it was an Italian talking English and not a German.

"Then he hoisted the Italian flag just before waving good-bye."

The attack occurred in broad daylight, Egerton related, but the men saw nothing of the submarine or the torpedo until it crashed into the boiler room "and stopped the ship completely."

The men abandoned ship immediately. The sub surfaced, fired ten or twelve shells, then used another torpedo to sink the blasted hulk.

Many of the crewmen had been on torpedoed vessels before. One of them, Anthony W. Cox, twenty-one-year-old senior wireless operator, said he "wasn't nearly as worried as the last time, when I was aboard a benzine tanker that I was afraid was going to blow up."

Pacific Fleet of United States Is Growing Stronger

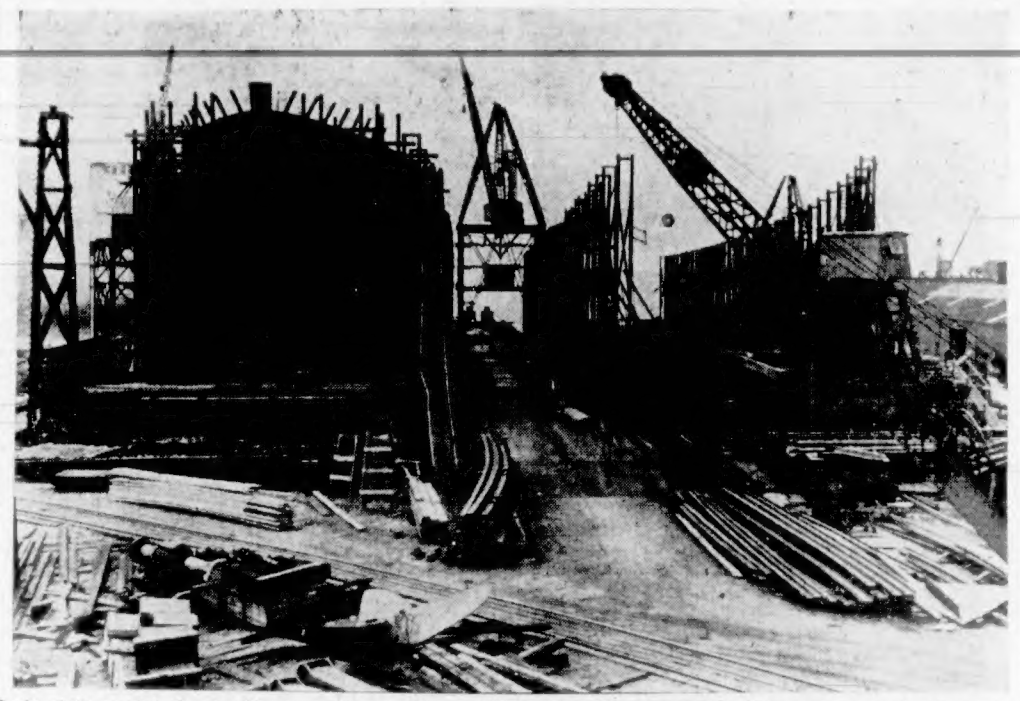
CHICAGO, April 6 (AP).—Lynn Stambaugh, national commander of the American Legion, in a radio address last night quoted a statement he credited to Navy Secretary Knox saying that "the nation's Pacific Fleet in ships, planes and men is even stronger today than it was before December 7."

He quoted a statement from former Commander Ed Hayes, now a special assistant to Secretary Knox, which said:

"The Navy Department is aware of the many rumors which have arisen about the Japanese action at Pearl Harbor, rumors so fantastic in some cases as to include the whispered statement that the Pacific Fleet was completely wiped out. I am authorized by Secretary Knox to state for the first time that as of this date, and for some time past, the Pacific Fleet in ships, planes and men today is even stronger than it was before December 7."

All Very Quiet on Western Shipyard Front



Looks wholly peaceful. It was, with no suggestion of total war visible anywhere. There was no rattle of rivet guns or flash of welding torches. Only a few maintenance men looking after their machines and the regular guards patroling the plant were in evidence. More graphically than all the words compiled between now and Doomsday, the above picture portrays how the demand for ships and more ships was met on the Pacific Coast of Canada during certain days of the recent holiday period. It is not an isolated example, but typical of practically all shipbuilding plants in the British Columbia area. Only one plant worked through Friday, Saturday and Monday. Others closed down either Friday or Monday. Who or what is to blame for the situation the picture does not pretend to point out—Federal Department of Labor officials, plant owners and union workers all probably had something to do with making the situation possible.

Sit-Down Strikes Outlawed on All American Ships

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP).—Sit-down strikes on vessels docked in United States ports were outlawed by the Supreme Court today in a 5-to-4 decision, which said that "a rebellion by seamen against their officers on board a vessel anywhere within the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the United States is to be punished as mutiny."

Justice Byrnes delivered the opinion which, through the court's application of the Federal Mutiny Statute, set aside a Labor Board order directing the Southern Steamship Company of Philadelphia to reinstate seamen who went on strike July 18, 1938, aboard the vessel City of Fort Worth, at Houston, Tex.

Byrnes asserted that the reinstatement order could not be applied because the seamen, by engaging in the sit-down strike, had violated the mutiny statute.

WAGE QUESTION GIVES TROUBLE

Two Eastern Shipbuilding Plants Close Down Because Of "Misunderstanding"

QUEBEC, April 6 (CP).—The Davie Shipbuilding Yards remained closed today while company officials, union heads and Dominion labor conciliators tried to clear up "a misunderstanding" created by enforcement of a new wage scale.

About 3,000 men remained idle while attempts were made to reach an understanding. Meantime, R. W. Morton, president of the Morton Engineering Company, denied reports the company's yards had also closed down pending settlement of a wage question. Both companies were reported last night to have closed Saturday noon after some workers complained their wages had been decreased.

"Everything has been normal right along," Mr. Morton said.

Employees had claimed that some workers had received increases ranging from eighteen to twenty-one cents an hour, while others had received decreases of seven cents an hour. Pay of ordinary laborers was said to have been decreased from forty-four to forty-two cents an hour.

Employees said they had received a telegram from the Dominion Department of Labor telling them that a new wage scale was not supposed to contain reductions. They said the telegram also said the yards should remain open until the matter was settled.

DIED DURING NAVAL RAID

Toronto Officer Killed in Assault on St. Nazaire Submarine Base

OTTAWA, April 6 (CP) — The Royal Canadian Navy announced tonight that one of its lieutenants died during last month's commando raid on St. Nazaire and that two others are missing as a result of the operation.

Lieut. Graham M. Baker, Toronto, lost his life in the assault on the Nazi submarine and naval base. Lieut. D. L. Davies, Montreal, and Surgeon Lieut. W. J. Winthrope, Saskatoon, are missing. All are members of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve.

"The recent announcement from England that the R.C.N. had embarked on commando activities gave added color to the news of these losses," the navy said.

"It had been known for some time that over 500 Canadian naval officers had been lent to the British Admiralty for special work chiefly in the Channel area. Mostly aboard M.T.Bs (motor torpedo-boats) and motor gunboats, they have been present at every major action in that vital field of war.

"The attack on St. Nazaire brought the first losses to this group to be made public."

Lieutenant Baker was the only son of E. G. Baker of Toronto. He enlisted in the navy as a sub-lieutenant, March 18, 1940, and was promoted to lieutenant exactly two years later. He went overseas on loan to the Royal Navy in April, 1940.

Lieutenant Davies is the son of C. J. Davies, of Montreal. His wife lives at Weymouth. He enlisted in the navy July 24, 1940, as an ordinary seaman, was promoted to the rank of sub-lieutenant December 31 that year and to lieutenant January 15, 1942. He has been serving overseas since August, 1940, having been selected for draft to the United Kingdom for a special officers' training course.

Surgeon Lieutenant Winthrope is the son of Dr. Paul Winthrope of 913 University Avenue, Saskatoon. He enlisted in the navy on February 4, 1941, and has been on loan to the Royal Navy since the Autumn of that year. Surgeon Lieutenant Winthrope graduated from the University of Toronto in medicine in 1936. He was instructing at the University of Toronto in the department of anatomy at the time of his enlistment.

Glancing Over Sport

By JOE DELAHUNTY

ICE HOCKEY GOSSIP

Hockey fans of Victoria were given a rude shock on Saturday night when the Detroit Red Wings turned in a 3-2 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs in the first of the Stanley Cup finals. Most of them figured that the Leaf machine was in high gear and couldn't be stopped by a club like the Wings. Jack Adams, boss of the Detroit squad, sent his team out on the ice and told them to check the Toronto boys to a standstill and that's exactly what they did. If the Rangers had done the same thing they would be in the final against the Wings and not the Leafs, but Patrick's crew let defenders like Stanowski, McDonald and Kampman throw their weight around in such a manner that they broke up attacks before they could even get started . . . The Leafs may even the series tonight but they will have a tough job on their hands for the Wings are a fighting team and will be in there punching from the first whistle. I will take Detroit by two goals . . . Kimberley Dynamiters surprised the fans by eliminating the Saskatoon Quakers in the semi-finals of the Western Canada Allan Cup series. They won out on Saturday night by the odd goal in seven after being taken over the coals by an 8-1 score in the previous game . . . Ottawa R.C.A.F. are still in the running for the Allan Cup. They beat out the Quebec Aces over the week-end by a 3-2 score before 10,000 spectators. That's the club I pick to win the national amateur honors . . . Nanaimo Clippers had a tough time beating that Victoria All-Star services team in the Up-Island city in the first of the series.

ODDS AND ENDS

Saw Major Bob Travis on the street yesterday. Bob has just returned from the Old Country after being with the Canadian Scottish Regiment. Travis was manager of the Scots Rugby fifteen when they were winning championships in this province a few years ago . . . Bobby Van Horne, trainer of the Victoria Dominoes, dropped into the sports department yesterday afternoon and was talking about the trip the local basketballers will be making to Winnipeg to meet St. Andrew's in the Western Canada final. The Dominoes moved into the final as Alberta and Saskatchewan did not enter the series after winning out in their centres. Bobby tells me that eight players will be making the trip East and the party will be ten if Manager Dave Nicol decides to go. Nicol will most likely travel with the boys . . . Met my old friend Wes Harper over the week-end. Wes played soccer for several years with Saanich Thistles. He is now living in Port Renfrew and has been away from the city for four and a half years, and yet it still seems like yesterday that he was arguing the point with the referees handling local league matches . . . If the local footballers don't finish off their season pretty soon they will be bumping into the baseballers at the Athletic Park. The soccerites still have the Jackson Cup to play for and that will take some time to finish . . . Lawn bowlers throughout the city have been taking advantage of the fine weather to sharpen up their games. The various greens at Beacon Hill, Lake Hill, Victoria West, Canadian Pacific and Burnside have been more than busy during the Easter week-end with women and men playing friendly matches . . . When he turns on the heat Lawson Little is one of the finest golfers in the business. He had eleven one-putted greens the other day playing in the $5,000 Asheville open tournament.

SOME SPORTS GOSSIP

Congratulations to the Victoria table tennis players who journeyed to Edmonton to compete in the Western Canada tournament. Barbara Mackay returned with the women's title tucked safely while Ab Renfrew made a grand effort to bring back the men's crown but was beaten after a thrilling match with Ken Crockett . . . I was just glancing over the all-star hockey team picked by The Canadian Press and I see that it was the same line-up that I selected in this column about a fortnight ago . . . Do you know that Billy Conn has been offered the neat sum of $25,000 to fight the winner of the Bob Pastor-Jimmy Bivins bout in Cleveland on April 17 by Matchmaker Larry Atkins? . . . "Red" Rolfe, Yankee third baseman, has been given a conditional contract. If in shape he gets the same salary as last year, about $17,000 . . . Alsab and Sun Beam are the co-favorites for the Kentucky Derby next month at Churchill Downs and are quoted at 5 to 1. Fairaris, the Canadian-owned three-year-old is quoted at 20 to 1 in the Winter book . . . Everything is pointing to the next Rose Bowl grid battle as a game between the all-American team the Army will round up from its ranks and a Navy outfit.

Annual Augusta Masters' Golf Tournament to Open Next Thursday

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP). — Big Ed Dudley is proud of his golfing ability. He is proud of his presidency of the Professional Golfers' Association. But proudest of all is he of the greens at the Augusta National Golf Club, where he is pro.

For eight years their incredibly-smooth yet baffling surfaces have decided the Augusta Masters' golf championship, and the ninth renewal of the tournament April 9-12 promises no reversal.

The odds are that a new champion will be crowned next week to succeed blond Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N.Y., for although the $1,500 top prize has been won twice by the same man, no golfer ever has clinched it two years in a row. Horton Smith won the Masters' inaugural in 1934 and again in 1936.

This year, with the United States Open Tournament canceled by war, the Masters title will be regarded by many as equivalent to a national championship. It will draw at least fifty tourney-toughened golfers.

Eighty-eight received bids, including all United States Open, United States Amateur and P.G.A champions; British Open and Amateur champions and former Masters' champions, but war service and withdrawal from competition of some older men will whittle the list.

Craig Wood came here last week to put in five days of practice on the 6,700-yard course.

Favorites include Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Nelson.

SPORTS BODY MAKES PLANS

Lower Island Rural Schools Hold Meeting to Discuss 1942 Season

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, April 6. — Plans for the annual Lower Island rural schools sports meet were launched at a preliminary meeting held on Tuesday evening at Cowichan Station. Schools represented at the sports will be Fairbridge, Koksilah, Cowichan Station, Shawnigan Lake and Sylvania. Officers elected were as follows: Chairman, J. J. Gillatt, Fairbridge; secretary-treasurer, M. Dunnett, Sylvania; field manager, Mr. Thomson, Cowichan Station. The meet will be held on Friday, May 22, at Fairbridge Farm School, with the committee empowered to cancel proceedings in the event of any emergency. A refreshment concession will be operated, and a public address system will be arranged for. In view of the difficulty in arranging transportation for preliminary "pull-offs," it was decided to eliminate the tug-of-war. The tug-of-war cup will be held by Sylvania, the last winner, as a challenge cup, open to challenge by any of the schools. The programme was discussed and slight changes authorized.

TOP PAR TOURNEY

Gordon Verley and Ross Hocking finished in a tie for first place in the Good Friday par competition held at the Victoria Golf Club by being one down. Wally Bowden and C. P. Rutherford were deadlocked in the runner-up berth, being two down.

Goal by Metz Sends Leafs Into Cup Finals

Nick Metz, farthest from camera, has just sunk the winning goal in the last six seconds of play against the New York Rangers to give the Leafs a 3-2 victory and send them into the Stanley Cup finals against Detroit Red Wings, who won their series from Boston Bruins. Gordie Drillon is Leafs' No. 12 shown. Metz' dramatic goal came as he, with Apps and Drillon, broke away from a four-man ganging attack by Rangers, and raced down the ice to bang the disc behind Goalie Henry.

Barbara Mackay Is Winner of Honors At Edmonton Meet

Captures Western Canada Table Tennis Championship in Prairie City—Ab Renfrew Beaten in Final by Ken Crockett After Great Battle

EDMONTON, April 6 (CP). — Ken Crockett, youthful Edmonton table tennis player and present city champion, scored the greatest upset of the night here, when he came from behind to defeat Ab Renfrew, of Victoria, in the men's open singles final for the Western Canada table tennis championship. Scores were 21-10, 10-21, 13-21, 23-21, 21-19.

Playing a smart game throughout the tourney, Crockett first knocked out Wilmot Browne-Cave, also of Victoria, in a semi-final match. Scores in this event were 21-13, 15-21, 21-13, 21-17.

On top of this, Crockett teamed with Tom Inkster, of Edmonton, to defeat Wilf Boyce and Cecil Mercer, both of Edmonton, 21-13, 21-19, 22-20, for the men's doubles title and paired with Alice Drummond, of Edmonton, to defeat Barbara Mackay and Ab Renfrew, both of Victoria, in the mixed doubles event.

Barbara Mackay took the women's singles title back to the Coast in another outstanding match of the night when she upset last year's champion, June Boyce, of Edmonton, after a five-game struggle. Scores were 15-21, 19-21, 21-13, 22-20, 23-21.

A Calgary pair, Connie O'Riordan and Peggy Brawn, won the women's doubles crown by defeating June Boyce and Barbara Mackay, 16-21, 21-19, 21-14, 21-13.

GREAT VICTORY

Feature of the night was Crockett's feat in winning the singles championship. He had little trouble winning the first game 21-10, but then Renfrew bounced back to win by the identical score in the second. Renfrew also took the third, 21-13, and seemed well on the way to cop the title, but in the fourth game, which went to deuce, Renfrew had match point twice only to miss his chance—first driving the ball into the net and the second time off the table. Then he lost the game 23-21.

Renfrew, a smooth-driving player, was having difficulty in the fifth game and although the game was close all the way the Victoria player seemed to get the best of the play, but dropped the game 21-19.

Crockett's victory duplicates a feat he pulled off here last February when he won the same titles in the Edmonton city championship tourney. He was recently ousted in the Alberta championship at Calgary by Len Marshall.

In the men's semi-finals, Marshall, present Alberta champion, was taken out by Renfrew, 23-21, 24-22, 21-16, while Crockett was disposing of Browne-Cave.

Ranking next to the men's singles battle was the final between Barbara (Topsy) Mackay and June Boyce. The two women—both hard hitters—battled hard throughout and it was just the reverse of the men's singles.

Miss Boyce took the first two games—15-21, 19-21—only to see the British Columbian come back strong and win the title. June, who is the top-ranking Western Canada player, had difficulty in the third game, which she dropped 13-21, and then the fourth went to deuce before Miss Mackay triumphed. The fifth game produced a thrill a minute in the see-saw battle, and after going to deuce twice Miss Mackay won the deciding point.

Harry Sladnyk, Edmonton junior, defeated Bubs Ilott, of Calgary, in the junior finals.

Crockett and Inkster had little difficulty disposing of Boyce and Mercer in the men's doubles—winning three straight. Prior to this the new champions defeated the Calgary pair of Ilott and Ed Shuman in a semi-final 21-15, 21-13, 21-16. In the other semi-final Boyce and Mercer beat Renfrew and Browne-Cave 21-18, 21-18, 21-19.

PORTLAND HAS TRIO OF WINS

Beavers Proving Surprise Club of Early Coast Baseball League Race

(By The Associated Press)

As the club almost universally chosen to finish a spanking last in this wartime baseball campaign, Portland could lay justifiable claim today to having matched the Coast League's major early season phenomenon.

The Beavers, fewer in number than any of their confederates, but well mellowed in the ways of the sport by age and experience, managed to win three of their first five games. That did not succeed in gaining them first place—a position reserved jointly for Seattle and San Francisco—but it did mean they will embark upon the second week of play with more victories than any rival can muster.

Byron Speece, a grandfatherly, right-hander, tipped the scales in Portland's favor. He struggled through four bad innings in the seven-inning night cap of Sunday's double-header against San Diego, but then took matters firmly in hand to hold the Padres hitless and runless the rest of the way.

His teammates, properly inspired by this display of courage, cracked four San Diego pitchers for four runs in the sixth, two in the seventh, and a 6-5 decision.

Earlier the Padres had topped the Beavers, 6-3, in a regulation nine-inning stand, the victory coming on a three-run rally in the eighth, but this Portland already had offset by winning, 4-2, Saturday, when Forrest Orrell blanked the foe in all but one frame.

Elsewhere in the league Sunday activity was limited to the doings at Hollywood, where the home team's 5-3 and 1-8 split with Oakland also meant an even break in the series at two games each. The Oaks won Saturday, 4-3.

| The standings: | W | L | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Seattle | 1 | 0 | 1.000 |
| San Francisco | 1 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Portland | 3 | 2 | .600 |
| Hollywood | 2 | 2 | .500 |
| Oakland | 2 | 2 | .500 |
| San Diego | 2 | 3 | .400 |
| Los Angeles | 0 | 1 | .000 |
| Sacramento | 0 | 1 | .000 |

RAIDERS IN VICTORY

Dugold Raiders captured the Commercial Ice Hockey League championship on Sunday by defeating Yarrows, 3-1, at the Willows Arena. C. Angus scored the first goal for the winners and then Jones made it 2-0 early in the second period before Lardier closed the gap for the shipbuilders. R. Angus netted the final tally of the match in the final period.

BASEBALL WORKOUT

Eagles will hold a baseball workout this evening at Royal Athletic Park at 6 o'clock. All of last season's players and others interested are asked to attend.

Patrick Is Named On Canadian Press All-Star Ice Team

Victorian Gains Berth on First String Squad Chosen by Sports Writers—Syl Apps Is Lone Toronto Player to Make the Grade—Frankie Brimsek Given Goal-Tending Position

By SYDNEY GROSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, April 6 (CP).—The brilliant toil of a dozen National Hockey League super-craftsmen over a full season's play was rewarded tonight with the announcement of their selection for the twelfth annual Canadian Press all-star teams.

The teams were selected by thirty writers in the N.H.L. cities later than in any of the eleven previous years the poll was conducted. And the selections of the men who "cover" the games reflected the play over the full five-month schedule rather than in any one period.

They chose two clubs combining experience of four to eleven years in the league with the first-rank ability these players must possess to obtain consideration. Only one man of last season's first team retained his place, although two moved up from the alternate squad.

Here are The Canadian Press teams:

Hextall, the league's fifty-six-point scoring leader, retained his left wing job on the first team easily, and Frank Brimsek, the Vezina Trophy winner, switched jobs with Walter Broda, while Syl Apps replaced Bill Cowley, of Boston, out most of the season with injuries, as the first-string centre.

Only the second team defence jobs provided the selectors with trouble. Taking to the veterans, thirty-one-year-old Earl Seibert and Tommy Anderson, also thirty-one, with ease after their fine all-season work, the selectors tossed their ballots for the other two jobs among Boston's Johnny Crawford and Dit Clapper, Toronto's Bingo Kampman and Bucko McDonald, and Pat Egan in almost equal numbers.

The "weighting" of the vote—a system which gives equal value to the votes from each N.H.L. city, no matter how many voters there are in each—gave the positions to McDonald and Egan, with Bucko drawing 116 points and Egan 104, to eighty-four for Kampman and Clapper and eighty for Crawford.

NEVER ANY DOUBT

There was never any doubt about the other jobs, especially on the first team. From the time the first ballots came in, the six players of the No. 1 club and Boucher as coach piled up an ever-widening margin. Patrick topped them all, the thirty-two-goal left winger getting twenty-nine of the thirty votes for the first team and the other vote for the alternate club.

Brimsek coasted in with twenty-three votes, Broda and Chuck Rayner, of Americans, splitting the other six. Seibert was returned to the first team for the first time since the 1934-35 season, although he had made the alternate club every season since. This time, with the great Clapper injured, the last six weeks of the season, there was no one to give Seibert much opposition and he polled eighteen first team ballots.

Anderson, whose first year as a defenceman after ten as a forward was marked by his setting a scoring record of forty-one points for defencemen, was the first choice of twelve selectors and bolstered this with twelve second team votes. It was Anderson's first appearance on the all-star team.

It also was the all-star debut of Egan, the hard-shooting twenty-four-year-old firebrand of Americans' rearguard, and the burly McDonald, whose comeback to the top after being sold to the minors by Detroit Red Wings three years ago amazed everyone except Bucko.

The enlistment of Boston's kraut line—Milt Schmidt, Woody Dumart and Bobby Bauer—in the Royal Canadian Air Force simplified the job of selecting six forwards. Apps earned the centre job, which he took for the first time in the 1938-39 season, by his masterful leadership of the Leafs and his forty-one scoring points. He got twenty votes to nine for Phil Watson, the playmaker for Hextall and Patrick. Don Grosso, of Detroit, received the other vote.

PATRICK SELECTED

Hextall, choice of twenty-six selectors, won the right wing position on the first team for the third straight year. Gord Drillon got two votes for the first team and seventeen to the alternate club. The single left wing vote that didn't go to Lynn Patrick was given to Schmidt, a centre, and Detroit's Syd Abel took the second team job with ten votes to seven for Toe Blake, of Montreal Canadians. Red Hamill, of Chicago, got five.

Boucher got the first-string coaching job with fifteen votes to seven for Thompson and six for Happy Day, of Toronto. This was a tribute to Boucher's work in molding the Rangers into one of the highest-scoring units in N.H.L. history, even though they had three rookies in their line-up.

GORGE ROVERS WIN FOOTBALL

Defeat St. Louis College in Cup Final by Three-Goal Margin

St. Louis College boys have given Gorge Rovers many better games than that at the Athletic Park Saturday afternoon. In fact, the College boys actually beat the Rovers in a local cup final.

In the Lower Island Provincial final Gorge Rovers completed their local soccer engagements in a blaze of glory by a 4 to 1 victory over St. Louis College.

A well-balanced Gorge team dominated play for three-quarters of the game, except in its early stages, when College appeared to make a real fight of it. Wharf scored at the ten-minute mark, but College kept a smart centre forward subdued until the half-time whistle.

Kicking down the slope for the final session, Gorge Rovers played their best football. College were able to do little against snappy short passing and seldom got out of their own half. McMillan first-timed a fast grounder which breezed into the net for the second goal. With a trip to Vancouver and another game for the provincial silverware as a reward Gorge went all out for victory and Wharf got two more goals. College could do nothing to stem the avalanche of goals. Temporarily they changed the monotony when Bernard Clarkson sagged the net to save a whitewash and earned a big hand from the sidelines.

But for Reginald Wait the score would have been bigger. College had an off day, and Gorge Rovers deserved the laurels.

Services All-Stars Trim Nanaimo Clippers in Exhibition Game, 9-6

An orgy of goals in the final period, six by the Services All-Stars and three by the Nanaimo Clippers, provided a fitting climax to a rough, free-scoring hockey fixture last night at the Willows Arena, in which the Up-Island sextette, Western Canada intermediate champions, finished on the short end of a 9-6 score.

After a somewhat ragged opening session, during which each of the clubs sagged the webbing once, things really warmed up in the sandwich period, so much so that the officials handed out seven penalties.

But what pleased the fans most of all was the scoring strength of Lieut. W. E. Warburton's Services puckchasers in the final stanza. Going into the last twenty minutes of play with the score standing at 3-3, the eventual winners came up with four quick goals and were never headed.

Brilliant passing plays and an offensive that certainly gave Keith Langille, Clippers' net custodian, the impression that the rubber shortage was eliminated, thrilled the crowd of approximately 1,100 fans.

Nine goals were registered in that third-stanza scoring orgy, with the Services sagging the webbing behind Langille six times. Clippers tallied three times, but when the final bell sounded they were still that number of goals behind the Services All-Stars.

Held even in the scoring in the first and second sessions, Lieut. W. E. Warburton's Services All-Stars certainly poured rubber at Langille in the last period.

CLEVER PLAYS

Playing together for the second time this season, the eventual winners came up with some clever, well-engineered, offensive plays in the third stanza and picked enough holes in the Clippers' defence for half a dozen tallies.

Nanaimo, playing minus the services of Doug Martinson and Don Stanley, two of the star performers of their Western Canada championship aggregation, had their hands full all evening. Clippers' fighting, driving offensive and the work of Langille, their net custodian, enabled them to reach the second stanza sharing a 3-3 score.

But in the final period, Services All-Stars fired home four goals in as many minutes, and the visitors could never get close for the remainder of the game. And then, too, the eventual winners looked in much better condition, and in that final twenty minutes of play had the Clippers literally "hanging on."

Billed as an exhibition affair, the game was as fast and as rough as any Pacific Coast League fixture played at the Willows this season, and during the sandwich session trouble threatened more than once.

Prior to the start of the final period, the officials read the "riot act" to the players, and they eased up a little, but still continued to hand out plenty of stiff body checks.

"Chuck" Taylor, Elmer Kreller, Les Wilson and Bus Algar each fired home a pair of markers for the winners, and Hewie Hill was the other scorer.

"Red" Carr, with two tallies, and Neilson, Dubec, Klein and MacKay were the other Clipper scorers.

LINE-UPS

Toronto Leafs and Detroit Will Meet In Second Fixture

Hockey Squads Will Clash This Evening in Stanley Cup Series—Coach Happy Day Will Be Missing From Bench—Red Wings Are Sold Out for Games Thursday and Sunday

TORONTO, April 6 (CP).—A sick coach only added to the troubles of Toronto Maple Leafs today—troubles that started when they dropped the first game of the Stanley Cup hockey finals to Detroit Red Wings.

Clarence "Hap" Day, fighting off an attack of flu for the past few days, finally yielded to his doctor's orders and went to bed yesterday. Whether he will be able to carry on from the bench for the second game of the best-of-seven series tomorrow night will not be known until just before game time.

As one observer put it: "'Hap' has been under continual pressure since the play-offs started but that awful game the Leafs played Saturday night really put him away."

Both clubs worked out today, shaking off the effects of one of the roughest contests witnessed here this season. The Leafs went through their paces under the direction of Major Conn Smythe and Eddie Powers.

Smythe has to leave Toronto tonight to rejoin his unit and it is just possible Powers may be in charge of the club if Day is unable to leave his bed.

TO TAKE CHARGE

Powers, former mentor of Syracuse Stars in the American League, has a reputation for developing the younger players. Many of the Leafs players have been under his direct control at one time or the other.

Talking about the mistakes the Leafs made in the first game of trying to outrough the Red Wings, he said: "We'll just have to beat them to the puck tomorrow night and try to evade the rough stuff."

Bingo Kampman was the only Leaf on the limp today. The defence husky has been bothered with a knee injury for some time. However, he is expected to do his usual chore in the second game.

The Red Wings skipped through a forty-minute workout today with the carefree manner of a bunch of kids playing shinny.

Don Grosso, who scored twice and assisted in the third goal in his team's 3-2 victory, set a withering pace for his teammates to follow.

The rookie line of Jerry Brown, Adam Brown and Joe Carveth showed up well in the attacks on goal and Carveth caught the far corner of the net with regularity that brought praise from Goalie Johnny Mowers. Carveth, with three goals to his credit, took a prominent part in the Detroit victories over Canadiens and Boston.

After the second game the series will switch to Detroit, where games are slated for Thursday and Sunday. Reports received by Red Wing officials here state that all tickets for both games have been bought up and standing-room ducats are now being sold.

RINK SOLD OUT

DETROIT, April 6 (AP).—Capacity crowds of more than 13,000 fans will see the third and fourth games of the Stanley Cup hockey play-offs here Thursday and Sunday, Olympia Stadium officials announced tonight.

Long lines formed in front of the ticket windows today and the few remaining ducats were snapped up. A record crowd of 13,525 spectators saw the Red Wings defeat Boston here last week to qualify for the final round in the National Hockey League play-offs.

RAY MILLAND ON DOMINION SCREEN

"The Lady Has Plans" Is Side-Splitting Comedy Thriller

A brand-new star twosome will be seen on the screen when Paramount's side-splitting comedy thriller, "The Lady Has Plans," opens today at the Dominion Theatre.

Ray Milland and Paulette Goddard—two top favorites among moviegoers—will be seen together in the film as America's ace newscaster and reporter, respectively.

From Lisbon, Milland broadcasts European news to listeners in America. Paulette Goddard, a reporter, is sent to assist him and she is mistaken by foreign agents for a spy who has drawn on her back in invisible ink plans stolen from the United States Navy. Milland, too, believes her to be the spy and when the real spy, Margaret Hayes, turns up, it is easy to imagine the merry mix-up that follows.

ATLAS THEATRE The drama queen and the glamour queen are co-starred together for the first time in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," the Warner Bros. film version of the long-run Broadway hit, now showing at the Atlas Theatre. The two queens are respectively Bette Davis and Ann Sheridan. The title role is played by Monty Woolley.

CADET THEATRE M-G-M's "Thin Man" pictures have always set a record for witty, sophisticated entertainment, and "Shadow of the Thin Man," newest of the series, which is now showing at the Cadet Theatre, with William Powell and Myrna Loy again cast as Nick and Nora Charles, proves no exception.

CAPITOL THEATRE Songs — dancing — romance — and laughter all go to make up M-G-M's big new musical, "Babes on Broadway," which will end tonight at the Capitol Theatre, with Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland in their lucky seventh picture together. The cast includes Ray McDonald and Richard Quine, both from the Broadway musical comedy stage, and Fay Bainter, Virginia Weidler, Donald Meek and Alexander Woollcott.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES Ella Fitzgerald, currently recognized as America's No. 1 swingster, makes her screen debut in Universal's newest Abbott and Costello laugh-riot, "Ride 'Em Cowboy," now showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. In "Ride 'Em Cowboy" as the dude ranch cook, she joins a brilliant roster playing in support of the two comedians.

RIO THEATRE In the first "outdoor" role of her career, Kay Francis appears as a pioneer Midwestern railroad telegrapher in Universal's "When the Daltons Rode," currently at the Rio Theatre. During the course of the picture Miss Francis herds cattle into a trail, fights back an angry mob and gets in a fist fight with Broderick Crawford.

The baby's parents are Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert.

DRAMATIC NOVEL TO BE SCREENED AT CAPITOL

J. Carrol Naish is one of Hollywood's polyglot actors. He has played characters of nearly every race and nation on the face of the globe, and now he adds a fresh item to his collection of exotic roles—the portrayal of a Corsican in the Edward Small production of the Alexander Dumas swashbuckling romance, "The Corsican Brothers," which will open on Wednesday at the Capitol Theatre.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., comes back to pictures in this dramatic novel by Dumas. He is cast in the dual role of the twin brothers who seek revenge for the wrongs done their family by a Corsican tyrant. In other leading roles are Akim Tamiroff, John Emery and Ruth Warrick.

OSHAWA WINS THIRD TUSSLE

MONTREAL, April 6 (CP) — The power-laden Oshawa Generals turned on the juice tonight to swamp Montreal Royals, 7-2, in the third game of their best-of-seven series for the Eastern Canadian Allan Cup final. It was the third straight victory and virtually assured them of entry into the Memorial Cup final.

Victors over the Royals in the first two games by 3-2 and 4-3 scores, the Generals gave a superb all-round display to trounce the Montrealers. The teams play the fourth game of the round in Toronto Wednesday night, and if a fifth game is necessary it, too, will be played in Toronto on Saturday.

The Montrealers started off with a bang with a goal less than two minutes ater the start by Jimmy Pianche. But after that the best they could do was a goal in the second period by Eddie Embery. Buck Davies rammed home two goals for the Generals, while their other scores went to Ken Smith, Floyd Curry, Ken McNaught, B. Guildolin and Ron Wilson.

Just before the end of the contest, comparatively mild throughout, a free-for-all broke out after Defenceman Bob MacParlane of the Royals and Forward Ron Wilson of the Generals began to nudge each other around behind the Royals' net. Guildolin rushed to the aid of his teammate and quick as a flash the players from both sides were involved in the fist swinging. When the referees finally managed to straighten out the scramble, MacParlane, Johnny Gauthier and McNaught were given major penalties.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY
If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful sensation of piles is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.
For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham Drug Stores, or any druggist, and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, is a small pear-shaped tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk a painful and chronic rectal condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.
If you are troubled and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money. — (ADVT.)

Yes, YOU BOYS AND GIRLS can help win the War!

What if you can't fly a bomber or drive a tank, or help make guns and ammunition. You can do your part in winning the war.

When you boys go out and cut lawns or collect paper and scrap, you are doing a man's work. That releases one more man for the armed forces or to work in a munitions plant. When you go to the store and carry parcels home you relieve a man, you also relieve a truck and make more tires and gasoline available for carrying on the war.

When you girls wash the dishes and help with the housework, your mother doesn't need to get help. That means more hands to work in munitions plants. When you bring dad's slippers do little chores for him when he returns, he will be able to do better work and more work next day—perform a bigger part in winning the war.

So, boys and girls, do all the odd jobs you can find to do. Make yourselves essential around your home and in your community. Every simple job you do willingly brings victory one step nearer.

Rally Cause of Brighter Picture On Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP). — A broad rally in stocks contributed to a brightened picture for leading speculative markets today.

Share prices, moving in step with cotton, grains, hogs and other commodity futures, stretched their April gains by fractions to a point or more. A few specialties finished 2 to more than 5 points higher.

A rise of .4 of a point in the Associated Press index combined with the small gains picked up in Easter week erased a fair part of the March decline. The measure closed at 35.0.

Transfers totaled 335,200 shares compared with 371,760 in the previous five-hour trading session.

Among the higher closings were American Can, Westinghouse, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Union Carbide, General Electric, Johns-Manville, American Telephone, Texas Co., and Santa Fe.

Prominence of merchandising stocks was Associated with March sales reports of several mail order and retail chains showing big increases over the same month last year.

Coco-Cola climbed 5 3-4 to accompaniment of stories the sugar situation had become less threatening for big consumers.

Pasadena Badminton Player Captures National Crown For Fourth Year

DURHAM, N.C., April 6 (AP).—David Guthrie Freeman, of Pasadena, Cal., and Pomona College, became the men's singles titleholder for the fourth consecutive year when he defeated Carl Loveday, of Montclair, N.J., 15-5, 15-10, in the finals of the sixth annual United States badminton championships.

The women's singles crown was regained by Evelyn Boldrich, of San Diego, Cal.

The second-seeded Loveday provided Freeman with by far the best opposition he faced in this tournament. The first game was never close, and although the New Jersey battler made a gallant bid to stay with the champion in the second game, dashing Dave simply had too many shots.

Miss Boldrick, A.U.C.L.A. coed, delivered the goods in a 12-10, 11-3 victory over her fellow Californian and doubles partner, Janet Wright, of San Francisco.

SINKS TEE SHOTS

Alex Chisholm scored two holes-in-one during the Easter week-end when he canned his tee shots on the sixth green at the Cedar Hill Golf Club on Friday and yesterday while playing in friendly matches.

Mainland Basketballers Take First of Series From Winnipeg Squad

WINNIPEG, April 6 (CP).—Experience spelled the difference between Altomahs here tonight as the West Coast champions scored a 43-20 triumph in the first game of a three-of-five series for the Western Canada women's basketball championships.

Cool and collected, the Hediunds made a show of the young Winnipeg team right from the start. Accuracy around the basket was their forte as the teams turned out to be fairly evenly matched in other departments.

While the British Columbians were sinking a good percentage of their shots, the Winnipeg girls appeared rattled and frequently wasted good scoring chances with over-anxiousness.

Hedlunds were smart ball-handlers, good checks and particularly adept at grabbing rebounds. They broke swiftly and seldom missed lay-up shots when their sure-handed guards fed the forwards sharp passes.

Captain Reta Panasis was the night's high scorer with fourteen points, but it was sturdy Kay McRitchie, former Edmonton Grad guard, who sparked the winners. Sterling defensively, Miss McRitchie was a nifty dribbler and started many scoring plays with her fast breaks and fine play-making.

Peggy Flower, tall Winnipeg centre, played fine ball, as did Guard Nellie Jones. Leading point-maker was Forward Pearl Jack with nine points. Generally, though, Altomahs were far below the form which earned them the Manitoba championship.

Victoria West and Esquimalt soccer elevens battled to a 2-2 draw in an exhibition soccer match, Sunday, at Bullen Park.

MELBOURNE (CP)—The Australian Council for Scientific Research says that excellent results have been obtained in production for export of compressed dried milk in fifty-six-pound blocks.

Murder on the Avenue

By CAROLYN WELLS

(Copyright, 1942, by Carolyn Wells)

CHAPTER VII

"You're jittery, Alma," said Nadine, as her hostess rejoined them at the bar. "You were shut up in that little reception room, with somebody. Who was he?"

"No one interested in you, dear. Don't distress yourself about me. Brand, fix me a nice long mild drink, will you?"

"I'll make it, 'Alma,' Van Dyke offered. "I know a new one; you'll like it."

"Then you sit by me, Brand. I want to tell you something."

"I want to sit by you, Mrs. McCleod." Dr. Lloyd took the place she had meant for Herrick.

"Yes, do," she smiled at him. "And you can take my pulse, and calm Nadine's nerves."

Suddenly Foo Chow came to them. After a formal bow, he said:

"Misser MacAllowed go topside to see the Old Father. He velly muchee sick,—and Misser MacAllowed say Doctor Lulloyd go up to him. Me show way."

"Oh, go right away, doctor," Alma said. "Doctor Larkin has gone home. It's probably one of Hugh's father's sinking spells."

"Why do you talk that gibberish" the doctor asked his guide. "You are an educated man."

"Yes, sir, but my lady likes me to talk so, it amuses her and entertains her guests. I think the old man is not worse than usual, but Miss Emmy is alarmed."

He led the doctor to the little staircase, opened its door, and Lloyd went up alone.

Emmy met him and took him at once to her father's bedside, a quick diagnosis told the doctor that it was a temporary faintness.

"I'm an ill mon, doctor," said old Angus. "Do give me a tide-over, I wadna dee while the pairty is here."

"You're far from dying while you can talk so clearly. But I will give you a dose, and then you must have a good sleep."

"Aye, aye." The invalid's eyes closed.

Lloyd give him medicine, and waited to see its effects.

The doctor stepped into the next room, and Hugh followed him.

"Your father will not die tonight," Lloyd told the anxious man. "He may live a few weeks, perhaps longer. Much depends on his being kept quiet. If he has too much excitement, it will be bad for him. Doctor Larkin is a splendid man, and understands the case."

"Do you think we ought to ask the people downstairs to go home?"

"Oh, no; he cannot hear them, and it would be a pity to break up Mrs. McCleod's pleasure."

"Is it pleasure?" asked Hugh. "I thought she seemed languid. Do you think she will get overtired?"

"No, indeed. She is a bit worried lest you think she ought to send her friends away, but I hope you won't ask her to do that."

"Indeed, no; since, you say she is all right. I am a sort of comfort to my sister. And I am not needed downstairs, but I will look in on them now and then, to please Alma."

"What are you going to do to please Alma?" said a soft voice, his wife took his arm and drew it round herself.

"Anything that will add to her happiness. Doctor Lloyd says I can go downstairs and stay, if you wish, but I would rather spend part of the time with father."

"So you shall, my darling. How is Emmy?"

"Brave as can be."

Hearing Alma's voice, Emmy came to them. "Father is very low, Alma," she said.

"Yes, dear, I know. I am so sorry for you, and I wish I could help in some way."

Emmy gave a sniff which said as clearly as words: "Pouf for your silly talk! It means nothing!"

And Emmy was right. Alma's one idea was to get away from the sick-room atmosphere, and from her husband's relatives. She kissed Emmy's cheek and patted her shoulder, and then started down the little stair.

"I'll go with you," Hugh said. "Lloyd will stay for a little, and then I'll come back."

They went down, and Alma went to her own dressing-room to take a look at herself. Hugh followed, saying: "Give me a kiss before you put any more of that red stickum on your lips!"

She laughed, granted his request and then, with a few light touches to her make-up, she was ready to go downstairs.

According to Culbertson

The opinion often is expressed that pre-emptive bids fatally interfere with slam bidding. This, like every other sweeping generality, is greatly exaggerated. I grant that pre-emptives do not help a partnership reach a slam, but it is going too far to say that they are "fatal." Note today's deal.

South, dealer.
Both sides vunerable.

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 3 ♥ | Pass | 4 N.T. | Pass |
| 5 ♥ | Pass | Pass | Pass |

South's vulnerable three heart bid announced a heart suit either solid or within one trick of solid, and a hand as a whole containing seven to seven and one-half winners (under the safety rule of having within two tricks of your bid, when vulnerable).

North, with four and one-half honor tricks, control of three suits, and a reasonable fit for a pre-emptive bid, correctly announced his strong holding and slam aspirations via the four-five no trump convention. It should be observed that this bid, in response to a pre-emptive opening, implies more than the bare, conventional requirements. It simultaneously announces that the responder, having added the opener's marked winners to his own, feels reasonably sure that at least an eleven trick contract will be safe, and it urges the opener to bid a slam if his first bid was fully up to "par." South, because his opening bid had not been shaded, and because his distribution was flexible (with the singleton spade), accepted the invitation and bid a small slam.

West opened the diamond queen. It immediately was apparent to declarer that success depended on one of two possible finesses. There was a losing club in the South hand and, if the heart finesse lost, provision would have to be made for it. The diamond ace won the first trick, and the heart nine was allowed to ride. West won and continued diamonds. Declarer won, drew trumps, and then made the logical play of finessing for the spade king. When the finesse held, the small slam could be claimed.

Obviously, a contract that depends on winning one of two finesses is well worth bidding.

Soroptimists Hold Meeting In Edmonton

EDMONTON, April 6 (CP).—Meeting in Edmonton at the week-end, delegates from many clubs in Western Canada reviewed war, welfare and association work during sessions of the Western Canada Regional Conference of Soroptimist Clubs.

Miss Esther Kinney, Vancouver, regional director, presided. She was chosen by delegates to represent the clubs at a convention in Cleveland, Ohio, this Summer. Others taking part in the session's business included Miss Florence Broughton of New Westminster, B.C., treasurer.

Mrs. S. A. Clarke, Victoria, library convener, told the conference she has sent 8,000 books to forty-seven military camps; Miss Broughton told of a hostess house in New Westminster for troops; Miss Barbara Langford, Nelson, B.C., told of equipping a children's wing in the hospital and many war and welfare activities; and Miss Lois Hunter, Trail, B.C. and Rossland clubs, told of their war work.

Mis Margaret Kinghorn, president of the Calgary Club, told of activities of that club.

Miss Wakelin Is Bride of Mr. F. Dalton

The wedding of Una Enid, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wakelin, 1022 Southgate Street, and Mr. Frank Edward Dalton, only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Dalton, 1519 Post Avenue, Torrance, Cal., was solemnized by Rev. Canon Smith in St. Barnabas' Church last evening in the presence of a large congregation. Mrs. R. E. M. Yerburgh presided at the organ, and the choir was in attendance and led in the singing of the hymn, "O Perfect Love," during the service. The Eastertide decorations in the church made a lovely setting for the wedding, and the guest pews were tied with Colonial posies.

The dark-haired bride was given away by her father, and looked radiant in her frock of white lace-web chiffon with a long train, and tight sleeves with shirred puffs across the top, and shirred motifs introduced in the bodice. Her veil of fine illusion net billowed in filmy folds to the end of the train from a Mary Queen of Scots headdress of lace-web chiffon, and Calla lilies composed the bridal bouquet. The bridesmaids were her cousin, Miss Lorraine Wakelin, and Miss Alphonsine Boulet, dressed alike in charming floor-length frocks of "heavenly" blue chiffon with bishop sleeves, who wore hip-length veils of matching tulle caught to their heads with wreaths of pale pink rosebuds. They carried bouquets of pale pink carnations. Mr. William Hanna, Nanaimo, was groomsman, and the ushers were the bride's brothers, Messrs. Gerald and Howard Wakelin. The reception was held in the Duke of Kent dining-room at the Empress Hotel where the bride's parents assisted the young couple in welcoming their guests. Mrs. Wakelin was becomingly gowned in a dinner frock of dusty rose silk crepe with a jacket trimmed with gold sequins, and a corsage bouquet of rosebuds, and her hat was a wide-brimmed black model. Spring flowers and greenery banked the fireplace and were arranged in bowls about the room, and a five-tier cake surmounted by a vase of lily of the valley and with flowers wreathed about the base, centred the supper table, which was covered with a pastel-green damask cloth. Bowls of flowers and tall green tapers added to the charming table appointments. For a motoring trip in the United States the bride left in a powder blue dress and hat worn with a beige coat with a lynx collar, brown alligator accessories and a corsage bouquet of orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton will make their home in Torrance, Cal.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m., from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m., and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:45 to 8:45 a.m., from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m., and from 10:45 until midnight.

If you are observant you may discover that few people will take the trouble to try to mask their feelings on April 7 and it may be wise for you to govern your actions by their facial expressions. There will be much variation between facts and fancies on this date so deal entirely with the former. Small errors of judgment apparently are going to have sufficient leverage to upset many an apple cart on this day, so try to avoid making them. Silence is apt to be construed as assent on April 7 so say whatever you have to say in unmistakebly plain language, leaving nothing to anyone's imagination. Married and engaged, and courting couples, will do well to remember that comparisons are by no means always odious and that they often can be used most effectively.

If you are a woman and April 7 is your birthday, never use jealousy as a means to attain any end, for it is extremely dangerous to arouse. Avoid playing politics to further your business or social aspirations, for they might involve you in a maelstrom of trouble. Your future successes apparently depend on your being straightforward and sincere in your dealings with everyone. Your ability to design, paint, teach, manage, write, sell, promote, lecture, sing, act, or play a musical instrument, may enable you to become prosperous and widely known. Marriage should enable you to see your girlhood dreams come true and provide you with the degree of congenial companionship so essential for your future contentment and happiness.

The child born on April 7 generally develops into a painstakipg, serious-minded youngster, who has, however, a keen sense of humor, a good memory and the ability to master any subject in which he is interested. Aries children ought to travel successfully the road that leads to the pinnacle of success.

If you are a man and April 7 is your natal day, just remember that "silver and gold are not the only coin; virtue, too, passes current all over the world." Your actions will speak louder than words, so govern them wisely and they will win you praise. As a doctor, dentist, clergyman, lawyer, chemist, engineer, theatrical man, government employee manufacturer, business executive sales agent, inventor, artist, musician, author, journalist, agriculturist, or in some scientific research work, you ought to excel and become prosperous and well known.

Royal Club Sends Gifts To England

Mrs. N. Kelly, Esquimalt Road, and her fellow-members of the Royal Club, Order of the Amaranth, have received a letter of thanks from Miss Katharine Stapleton, of the Hampshire Clothing Branch of the [illegible] Families Association, acknowledging the gift of a warm bedspread and other useful articles sent in two large boxes of clothing through the Overseas League.

Miss Stapleton writes "We are indeed grateful to all those kind and generous friends, who though far away, help us so valiantly. It is impossible to describe the joy your gifts bring. British Columbia has done more to assist us than any other part of the world. This association for which I work benefits the families of soldiers, sailors and airmen and ex-service men who are in distress.

". . . Today I have dispatched a parcel of clothing for two little children. They are Pauline, aged seven, and Anthony, aged five. They are evacuated to a Hampshire village for their home is in rather a dangerous area. Their poor mother has just heard that her husband, a petty officer in the Royal Navy, is presumed dead as from May 29, 1941. He was in H.M.S. Hereward at Crete. Had her served until June 7, 1941, he would have gained his fifteen years' Good Conduct Medal, plus a bonus of £25. The widow finds it hard to meet all expenses and has been helped with her rent. Another woman whom we helped through your generosity had been a long while in hospital with wounds due to an air raid in which three of her children were killed. This is one of the most tragic cases we have dealt with, and will, I know, enlist your sympathy. Her husband is a soldier.

"Yet another family we have been able to help this month is one where the husband is a prisoner of war. He has five children, all have been ill during the bitter Winter which at last is drawing to an end. Their mother is dreadfully delicate and she was delighted with the clothing we sent her.

"It is so hard for these women to keep up their courage, and there is so much for them to contend with, but they are quite wonderful."

In addition to the parcels of clothing sent by the Royal Club through the Overseas League in Victoria, the members supply clothing for four adopted families in Liverpool. Work meetings are held each month when wool and materials are distributed to the members, and at the present time a contest is being held, with a handsome afghan as the prize, and tickets are being sold by the club members. The proceeds will be used to purchase materials.

Victory Fair Planned as War Effort

The Women's Canadian Club and the Kinsmen Club are combining forces to hold a gala United Nations Victory Fair at the Crystal Garden on May 5 in the afternoon and evening. Tentative plans have been drawn up and the clubs are hoping to make this a truly worthwhile venture, the entire proceeds to go to war charities.

There will be stalls of all kinds, each decorated with flags and emblems of the United Nations and exhibits of interesting articles gathered from all parts of the world which Victorians have promised to lend for the occasion.

There will also be games, dancing by a group of young pupils of a local dancing school, as well as a "jitney dance" in the evening, which should be popular among the men of the three services.

Among the members of the Canadian Club who have been named as tentative conveners of the various attractions are Mrs. S. J. Willis and Mrs. F. M. McGregor, decorating; Mrs. F. Paterson and Mrs. H. C. Kinghorn, home cooking; Mrs. F. M. Bryant and Mrs. Walter Luney, tea; Mrs. Howard Taylor and Mrs. Herbert Pendray, superfluities; Mrs. W. G. Flett, fish pond. There will also be a flower stall.

In charge of the exhibits from various countries will be Mrs. J. O. Cameron, United States, Panama, Alaska and Hawaii; Mrs. Reed Paige Clark, Greece and Yugoslavia; Mrs. Marcel Godfrey, Poland and Czecho-Slovakia; Mrs. T. A. Rickard, Mexico; the Y.W.C.A. board of directors, the Netherlands; Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Norway and Denmark; Mrs. F. M. Bryant, Belgium; Mrs. H. M. Archibald, Free France; Mrs. Charles Hudson, Chinese art; Mr. Joseph Hope, China; Mrs. Stuart Kenning, India; Mrs. H. L. Smith, Russia; Mrs. Duncan MacBride, New Zealand; Mrs. Victor Bartholomew, England, and Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Scotland. South Africa, Wales, South America and Australia will also be represented.

All club members have been asked to assist in any way possible and suggestions will be welcomed by the Women's Canadian Club convener, Mrs. Alan Campbell, Dallas Road.
